VOL XVI. NO. 213. TOLEDO, OHIO, TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 5, 1892. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

AFTER THE GRIPPE.

The Grippe Responsible for More Deaths after Recovery than During its Course—How to Avoid the Danger.

Grippe, in itself, is bad enough, debilitating enough, but it is the after effects, the slowness of recovery that give it its great danger. In most cases, the person did not have sufficient vitality to rally after the disease itself had passed. The forces of nature were too weak to contend with the debility which the Grippe had left.

It is sad to think how many people have died who might have been saved if nature had been properly assisted and fortified after the Grippe had been driven from the system. Many physicians realized this fact and assisted their patients over the dangerous after effects by bracing up and stimulating their systems. This was, and can be done in but one way, and that is by the steady and moderate use of some pure yet powerful stimulant. There is but one absolutely pure and medicinal stimulant known to the profession and to the public, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The most prominent scientists and physicians of the land endorse its purity and value. It is not a new whiskey, it has been before the public for years. It is not a cheap decoction, but a pure distillation. It imparts a tone to the system possible in no other manner and sends the blood coursing through the veins with renewed vigor. It is superior in every respect and however much any unscrupulous druggist or grocer may seek to lead you to believe to the contrary do not be deceived.

Kate B. Sherwood,

Past National President of the Woman's Relief Corps, states:

"Having contracted a severe bronchial trouble while in the White Mountains, I have since been subject to frequent attacks. I can truly say that I have experienced more prompt, pleasant and enduring relief from the use of DAY'S BRONCHIAL CURE than any other, and most cordially recommend it to all suffering from similar affection."

Contains neither opium nor alcohol. For sale by druggists.

IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

Observer Hagen, the man who runs the weather from the top of the government building has a few remarks to make on present conditions as follows:

The storm central yesterday in the lake region has taken a northerly direction, and is now central over Lake Superior with a pressure of 29.6 ins. The conditions along the lakes from Duluth to the Atlantic coast north of the 40th parallel are very much disturbed, and with a mean pressure of 29.7 inches, and a variation in temperature from 22 degrees above at Buffalo to 10 degrees below zero at Parry Sound, a distance of only 200 miles north. This disturbed condition will not last long, as an area of clear weather has appeared in the west; to-day will see the last of it.

The temperature will be higher to-day and to-night; to-morrow will be slightly cooler and clear.

The lowest temperature reported this morning was 12 degrees below zero at Rockliff, Canada; the highest 62 degrees at Galveston. The highest here yesterday was 27 degrees; the lowest this morning was 14 degrees.

Local forecast for to-day—Slight change in temperature, probably flurries of snow.

Caucuses to be Held To-Morrow Night.

Griffin Will Present the Cincinnati Man's Name and J. W. Nichols Will do a Like Service for the Man From Mansfield, Who Will Win.

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—The senate has seated Iden, the contesting republican in place of Gaumer, democrat, and there will therefore be 93 votes in the republican caucus to-morrow night.

The number of votes necessary to nominate, however, still remains 47.

Senator Sherman seems to be gaining strength every hour, but the Foraker men show no less confidence in the result than they have shown from the first.

Since yesterday Senators Lampson and Rawlings, and Representatives Dunn, McCoy and Lutz have openly announced their intention of voting for Sherman.

All of these, except Senator Lampson had been classed as Foraker men, though Lutz and Rawlings were marked "doubtful" in most lists.

The Foraker men now claim that seven men who voted for Laylin for speaker will vote for Foraker for senator. Laylin's vote for speaker was 38. If the Foraker claims are correct, this will reduce the Sherman strength in the house to 31 votes, and raise the Foraker strength to 41 votes in that branch.

There is no uncertainty now as to how the senators will vote in the United States senatorial caucus. There will be 21 votes in the caucus from that branch. Fifteen will vote for Sherman and six for Foraker.

Adding Foraker's six votes from the senate to those he claims in the house, it gives 47, exactly the number required to nominate, and makes Sherman's vote 46.

Chairman Hahn, of the state republican executive committee, who has been managing Senator Sherman's canvass, and is conceded to be a very shrewd politician, and very conservative, said to the United Press to-day: "Senator Sherman will have 56 votes in the caucus—15 from the senate and 41 from the house. This is no supposition. We know just how every man we claim will vote.

"We have no doubt at all about the result. No, I will furnish no list of the names of men who will vote for Senator Sherman, but I will say there are no doubtful men to us; we know and have known for some time just how every man will vote."

The caucus will be held in the hall of the house at 8 o'clock to-morrow night, Representative Kissenger presiding.

Senator J. W. Nichols, of Belmont county, has been selected to place Mr. Sherman in nomination, and Representative, of Toledo, will perform a similar service for ex-Gov. Foraker.

Outside of the Foraker headquarters the opinion seems to prevail generally that it is impossible now to elect Foraker.

Will Foraker Withdraw?

Friends of Foraker are now considering whether to draw out graciously, or stay in the fight and see who are their friends.

If this is the position they take it would be well to join hands and have an open ballot, with an open caucus.

It is claimed by Sherman men at noon that their candidate will have 62 votes in caucus, Foraker 29, Foster 1, McKinley 1, with strong probability that it will be 64 to 29.

Threats are already made by Foraker's managers that the knife will be used at the coming state convention to nominate state officers as well as delegates to the national convention. Foraker men will want Blaine men with a tendency to place Foraker on the ticket for second place.

In fact, Forakerites say Foraker must head the delegation. It is expected that a bomb will burst in the senatorial camp this afternoon, but nobody seems to know what it is.

Proved His Unfitness.

To show how Foraker's ability to make an indiscreet statement is appreciated outside the state the following from the Philadelphia Ledger is being circulated here to-day:

"The surprise is not that the supporters of the Ohio statesman won in this preliminary contest, but that they did not win by a large majority, considering the intemperate speech made by Gov. Foraker to his followers immediately preceding the caucus.

"It is astonishing that he should have received so many votes, as what he said so clearly demonstrated the wrong which would be done his state and the nation by the dismissal of so wise, safe and competent a statesman as Mr. Sherman, in order to make room for a politician like Foraker, who himself proclaimed his unfitness to occupy the senatorial chair.

"This senatorial contest will leave sore spots in every county in this state, and it will be a question whether Gov. McKinley will be strong enough to heal up these wounds and bridge over the chasm that it has created.

"There are those who think that the nomination of Blaine for president will cement the party more firmly than ever. A great responsibility rests upon the republican press of the state, as well as the leaders of the party, which will be stronger than ever."

"The senatorial situation in Ohio is both depressing and humiliating to those who have believed, or, at least hoped, that American politics was, if slowly, yet surely raised to the plane of statesmanship.

"The contest between Senator Sherman's and Gov. Foraker's friends in the legislature of Ohio is not one which concerns the people of that commonwealth only. The people of the entire country are concerned, that it shall have a proper conclusion."

Must Knuckle to the Boss.

W. S. Cappeller, ex-Gov. Foraker's intimate friend, voiced the sentiments of a good many Foraker men when he said: "Gov. Foraker has 42 votes who will be with him, as were the 306 for Grant at Chicago. With the most liberal calculations we are unable to give Senator Sherman more than 40 votes of the same kind, and the unpledged men still hold the key to the situation.

"There is that which must be said of those that are undeclared, that their political friendships and affiliations have all been with Foraker. Whether Senator Sherman is nominated or not he has no political future like a younger man, and if the federal administration desires to succeed itself it will be climbing a borbed wired fence for the purpose of securing the friendship of Foraker and his friends in Ohio, for it must be admitted that the active republicans of the state are with the governor in this state.

TESTING MERCHANT SHIPS,

To Find Their Value in Case of a War.

The United States Government is Busily Engaged in a Line That Looks as if Trouble Was Expected.

New York, Jan. 5.—That the United States government is actively preparing for war was shown in the extraordinary trial trip of the steamship Venezuela, of the Red D. line under the supervision of the naval board of inspection. This remarkable trial which was for the purpose of determining whether the ship came up to the service requirements regarding speed, was begun Sunday afternoon and concluded yesterday. The trial is said to have been perfectly satisfactory, the vessel maintaining an average speed of 14 knots for four consecutive hours.

The Venezuela is a new vessel lately constructed by the Cramps, and plies between this port and South American ports.

Is is understood that Carcaus of the same line will be subjected to a similar trial on her return rom her southern trip.

MONTT WILL MAKE APOLOGY

Interesting News From Far Off Chili.

Police Are Kept Around the American Legation to Protect Egan From the Wrath of His Enemies.

New York, Jan. 5.—The correspondent of the Herald at Valparaiso telegraphs that he hears that the Chilian government has cabled orders to Minister Montt at Washington to make a sincere apology to the United States for the unfortunate and deplorable attack upon the Baltimore sailors on October 16 last.

The apology, he is told, is unqualified in its character.

Other matters that are in dispute between Chili and the United States are to be speedily considered by the new administration.

The correspondent also telegraphs that from semi-official sources he learns that the reason the Santiago police are kept in the vicinity of the American legation is that the intendente is in daily receipt of letters containing threats to burn and sack the legation. The government therefore desires to have the police near at hand so as to prevent the execution of any such threats.

DISFIGURED FOR LIFE.

Actress Mary Bird Seriously Burned.

A Bottle of Face Lotion Exploded, Igniting Her Clothes with Terrible Results.

Cincinnati, Jan. 5.—Miss Mary Bird, an actress, playing at the Grand opera house, was badly and perhaps fatally burned last night. She is boarding at Hexter's hotel, and was about to retire for the night, when her clothes caught fire by the explosion of a bottle of face lotion which she held in her hand, uncorked.

The frightened girl ran screaming down stairs. There was no one astir in the hotel, but her cries of pain brought a number of persons to her assistance, who extinguished the flames, and summoned medical assistance.

Her face, neck and arms are frightfully burned and even should she recover, it is very probable she will be disfigured for life. Miss Bird is a native of New York, where she has a brother in the theatrical business. She is 22 years of age.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—Late yesterday afternoon Charles Debear, alias La Rosse, a cripple, drunk and jealous, engaged in a quarrel with his wife, in the course of which he drew a revolver and fired three shots at her, fatally wounding her.

He then turned the revolver on himself and put the two remaining balls in his heart, dying instantly. Long standing infelicity was the prime cause of the affair.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—Adelbert D. Sly, the Glendale train robber is trying to come to terms with the St. Louis police. Despite his refusal to acknowledge outright that he is the man who took such a prominent part in those affairs, Sly is now ready to confess and give away the whole thing to Chief Harrigan.

Both Harrigan and Desmond appeared particularly pleased with the result of yesterday's confidential chat with the train robber and it is evident that Sly has abandoned all efforts to prevent or deny the proofs of his connection with the St. Louis safe burglaries and the Glendale train robbery.

GERRY AGAIN ON DECK.

Republicans Commence Tearing Up the State.

Toledo to Be Placed in a Republican District.

Hon. C. A. Flickinger to Make a Fight for the Nomination—Congressman Outhwaite Legislated Out of Office.

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—(Special)—The republicans of the state of Ohio are noted for their duplicity. And why shouldn't they be, when republican party organs preach the doctrine that a man's word is of no account, and that anti-convention pledges are never intended to be kept.

The great republican president of the United States went into hysterics on account of the action of the Michigan legislature in redistricting that state, and Ohio republicans echoed his sentiments and talked long and loud of the methods of the democracy.

Yet on the first day of the Ohio assembly's session the republicans introduce a gerrymander measure that puts to shame anything the democrats have ever attempted.

Senator Carpenter's bill, introduced yesterday, divides the state for congressional purposes as follows:

First district—The townships of Columbia, Anderson and Spencer, in Hamilton county, and the First, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Eighteenth, and Twenty-third wards of the city of Cincinnati.

Second—Townships of Miama, Delhi, Storrs, Green, Springfield, and Mill Creek, of the Hamilton county, with Riverside village and the Second, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth wards of Cincinnati.

Third—The townships of Whitewater, Harrison, Crosby, Colerain, and Sycamore, of Hamilton county, and the counties of Preble, Butler, Warren, Greene, and Fayette.

Fourth—The counties of Montgomery, Clark and Madison.

Fifth—Darke, Shelby, Auglaize, Mercer, Allen and Van Wert.

Sixth—Miami, Champaign, Logan, Hardin and Hancock.

Seventh—Paulding, Putnam, Defiance, Henry, Wood and Sandusky.

Eighth—Williams, Fulton, Lucas and Ottawa.

Ninth—Seneca, Crawford, Wyandot, Marion, Richland and Ashland.

Tenth—Franklin, Union and Delaware.

Eleventh—Clermont, Brown, Clinton, Highland, Scioto and Adams.

Twelfth—Lawrence, Vinton, Pike, Jackson, Ross and Pickaway.

Thirteenth—Athens, Gallia, Meigs, Morgan, Hocking and Fairfield.

Fourteenth—Muskingum, Perry, Noble, Guernsey and Washington.

Fifteenth—Jefferson, Carroll, Harrison, Belmont and Monroe.

Sixteenth—Tuscarawas, Coshocton, Holmes, Morrow, Knox and Licking.

Seventeenth—Huron, Erie, Medina and Summit.

Eighteenth—Stark, Wayne and Columbiana.

Nineteenth—Mahoning, Trumbull, Lake, Ashtabula and Portage.

Twentieth—Geauga, with the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh wards of the city of Cleveland, with the townships of East Cleveland, Mayfield, Newburg and Euclid, in Cuyahoga county.

Twenty-first—All the remainder of Cuyahoga county not herein above placed in the Twentieth district, with the county of Lorain.

The bill gives the republicans 14 congressmen, leaves two districts doubtful, and five are unquestionably democratic. The republican districts are the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first, and the democratic districts are the Third, Fifth, Seventh, Ninth and Sixteenth, and the doubtful ones are the Eighth and Eighteenth.

Senator Carpenter expects many amendments to be made and possibly a substitute may be adopted.

Toledo is placed in a republican district and the logic of the situation, since Sherman has secured complete control of the state forces, is that his old time friend and statesman, Hon. C. A. Flickinger, should be the candidate for congress.

Flickinger has been faithful to Sherman from first to last and the power of the federal office holders will be used to call the honored gentleman up higher in the councils of his party.

Mr. Flickinger bears up with dignity under the honors to be forced upon him, and will do his best to serve his constituents, which has always been the strong point in his public career.

Outhwaite is legislated out of office and four of the democratic districts will have an average majority of 10,000.

The Rippers at Work.

The reorganization of the state institutions and cities commenced this morning in the house of representatives by the introduction of a bill to reorganize the penitentiary, also to reorganize the city of Columbus by repealing the present law and enacting one similar, except that the city council is authorized to create districts for members of a board who are to be elected as their terms expire. The probate judge makes the first appointment.

Mr. McCoy introduced a bill providing for another junketing trip to select a site on which to erect an insane asylum in the eastern part of the state, the cost not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars. The commission will consist of three members and is to be appointed by the governor.

Judges of election in towns and districts will be happy if the Pudney bill passes increasing their pay from one dollar and a half to $3 per day.

In General.

Heretofore all claims for sheep killing had to be made to county commissioners, now they will have to be submitted to township trustees, but paid for out of general fund. This is a bill the farmers want passed. House by resolution employed nine porters at $3.50 per day, an increase of two over last legislature.

In the senate Mr. McMaken introduced his old house bill, providing for a board of five dental examiners to be appointed by the governor from a list given him by the State Dental association. All dentists who hold diplomas or certificates from any college shall not be required to take examination, but whoever receives a certificate from the state board, as well as those having diplomas or certificates, shall have them recorded with a county recorder.

Any violations of this law are punishable by fine of from $25 to $50 and revocation of certificates.

President Marquis appointed Nicholas, Van Cleaf, Gear, J. L. Carpenter and Hildebrand as committee to prepare resolutions on death of late Senator Adams.

Mr. Boxwell's bill providing for graduation of pupils from sub-school districts, gives pupils a chance to enter the high schools without having to wait a year or two.

ADVICE FROM ENGLAND.

London, Jan. 5.—The Pall Mall Gazette says it hopes the United States will not raise any further throuble with Chili, as, in the opinion of the newspaper referred to, substantially, justice has been done to the rioters and the United States would best consult her dignity by frankly admitting this to be the case.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Findlay, O., Jan. 5.—David H. Losey, a young married man of this city, was instantly killed on the Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western railroad a few miles west of here yesterday afternoon. He was standing on the car steps leaning out and looking under the car, when his head came in contact with a cattle guard and was crushed. He was an employe of the company.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.

New York, Jan. 5.—Fire early this morning in the five-story building at the corner of Murray and Church streets caused an aggregate damage of $21,500, distributed as follows:

Laflin & Rand Powder company, $500; United States Glass company, $1,000; L. Rosenthal, $5,000; G. H. Brown, $15,000; insurance unknown.

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Times this morning says that recent developments give credibility to the report that the New York & New England railroad will either soon pass into the control of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, or else a contract agreement will be made by which the two rival roads will be operated jointly.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Charles T. Whitman, who lives in this city and has large lumber interests in Tunica county, Miss., was arrested here Saturday night on the supposition that his name is L. C. Sink, who is wanted in Columbus, O., for a forgery committed ten years ago. Whitman claims that it is a case of mistaken identity.

LEFT TO THEIR FATE.

Heartless Action of a Steamship Captain.

Six Men Battle with the Stormy Waves.

They Secure a Man's Body Who Had Jumped Overboard and Nearly Sacrifice Their Lives in Their Heroic Work.

Liverpool, Jan. 5.—A boat crew composed of six men, belonging to the British steamship Eleanor, arrived here this morning in a half-frozen condition. The sailors tell a tale of much suffering from which experience several of them will be permanently injured.

From stories told by the men, it appears that one of the passengers of the Eleanor, who had been acting in a strange manner all the time he had been on board that vessel, suddenly jumped overboard on Sunday while the steamer was going at full speed. The Eleanor at that time was off Greenmore light, county Louth, Ireland; but far out at sea. In addition it was night time and a nasty sea was running; the weather was bitterly cold.

In spite of these facts the captain of the steamship stopped and then reversed his engines and ordered a boat to be got ready for launching.

He also called for a volunteer crew and burned blue lights while the boat was being swung overboard and lowered away. A crew of six volunteers slid down the falls the moment the small craft was ready and with the steamer still burning colored flare lights, the rescuers disappeared in the darkness, pulling with all their strength in the direction in which the drowning man was supposed to be.

Under the influence of wind, sea and a strong current the boat was soon so far away from the steamer that her lights could not be seen. The gallant seamen, however, continued their search for the passenger who had jumped overboard.

When the first alarm of "man overboard" had been given on board the Eleanor a life buoy had been thrown overboard from the steamer and after an hour of fruitless search, the men in the Eleanor's boat found this buoy and, clutching it fiercely in his death agony, was the unfortunate passenger. He died before he could be pulled into the boat.

The six rescuers then turned their attention to their own safety and anxiously scanned the horizon in search of the steamer's light or of Greenore's beacon.

Neither, to their dismay, could be seen. By this time the sea was running higher, threatening every moment to swamp the light boat. The men, after the first excitement of the work of rescue had worn off, had become cold and numb; those who had oilskins on found them frozen stiff as boards about them, and those who were not so well equipped began to suffer most severely from the cold.

The men shouted and shouted for hours without avail, and at last they recognized the fact that the Eleanor had abandoned them and that their chances of ever putting their foot ashore again were very slim.

The boat was half full of water and it required the combined strength of the six men forming her crew to keep her quartering on the sea.

To make matters worse a drenching downfall of rain swept over them, still further adding to their misery. Some of the men were so exhausted that they could hardly grasp their oars, while their feet were so cold that they appeared to be turned to ice. There was nothing to eat or drink in the boat, and in this manner they pulled wearily throughout the night.

Three or four times during the period the sailors gave up in despair and proposed to lie down in the boat and die; each time the cheering words, or taunts of the second officer, who was in command, nerved the sailors to make one more struggle for life.

Some claimed that their bad luck was caused by the presence of the dead body in the boat and it was proposed to heave it overboard. More human councils prevailed and the six men, with their dead freight, continued the battle against cold and wave.

When the morning dawned they could see in the distance a long low line of black and pulling toward it with renewed vigor, they were overjoyed to see that they were approaching land. Some hours later, at ten in the morning, the Eleanor's sailors, weak and exhausted, ran their boat ashore at Greenore, and were soon being tenderly cared for by the coast-guardsmen.

It was soon seen that the rescued men were badly frost-bitten and that several of them would at least lose fingers and toes before they recovered from their night's experience.

As soon as possible they were forwarded to Liverpool.

The Eleanor had, in the meantime, reached Holyhead and reported the loss of the six men and the passenger referred to. The greatest indignation is expressed against the captain of the steamer for having so hastily concluded that the six men were lost. He says he cruised about for two hours in the vicinity of the spot.

BOTH SIDES FIRM.

London, Jan. 5.—The majority of the Welsh colliers are idle. Both employers and employes decline to yield in the dispute existing between them. Some of the Welsh managers do not insist upon the men, individually, signing the contract demanded by the Employers organization. It is believed others will follow their example when work in the coal mines is resumed.

RESULTED IN MURDER.

Ashland, Pa., Jan. 5.—John Sandusky, a prominent younk Polander of this place, was attacked last night by two men who kicked and stabbed him. He died this morning, but before expiring he made a statement in which he charged Michael Chamoske and John Stevens with the crime. Both men have fled the town. The affair grew out of a religious argument. Officers are looking for the murderers.

THIS FOR THE GIRLS.

Leap Year and Lots of Fine Gentlemen About.

A Bachelors' Directory Setting Forth Qualifications—A Few Desirable Widowers Sprinkled Throughout.

Dear young ladies. Here is your golden opportunity. Old Mother Earth has rolled around another cycle, and now according to the dictates of the astronomers of old you are enjoying a period of 366 days, during which you may in all propriety lay aside those icy barriers of maidenly modesty and reticency, assumed and real, that have likened you to a castle or a shrine builded on a firm rock, before which the men, old and young, rich and poor, bald and otherwise, of all times have besieged or worshiped with a fervor unremitting that certainly merits some compensation at your hands. Let us repeat, ladies—here is your golden opportunity.

There are hundreds of young men right in this town who have moped, blushed and simpered as masculine wall flowers during the past three years who are just as desirable, and far more lovable, when you get right down to business, than half of the addle-pated, hair-brained, bebanged, butterfly dudes who have filled your parlors, basked in the warmth and light of your sunny faces and your father's illuminating and heating gasses and dazzled you by their cheap finery and unending string of social conversational topics and twaddle. You haven't really liked the fellow, but he has had a certain get-there quality, and he has been hanging around. Then, too, at some periods of the game, he has been fashionable, like the pug, and was handy to carry things. The fact is you have been courted. How do you like it? Wouldn't you like to do a little courting? How would you like to roam unmolested in fields of your own choosing, plucking the flowers of masculinity, whose colors, form and perfume attract and please you most. This you can do, and again let it be said, here is your opportunity.

That you may commence at once and have no trouble in finding immediately the best article in the market, a bachelors' directory is appended, culled from the finest of the fine. Paste it in your hat:

Guy Hunter; non-resistance itself.
Ed Kirk; most obliging and attentive.
Ed Pixley; prime goods and a lively boy.
Orus Jones; quite athletic and agreeable.
Harry Lawton; sings and plays divinely.
Ed Wilder; very popular; sure to suit.
Irving Squires; very clever and willing.
Perry Waite; bashful a bit, but susceptible.
Gus Leibius; a good waltzer and fascinating.
Frank Kahlo; fine physique; right good fellow.
Jack Schmidt; always happy, is to be caught.
Fred Bissell; engaged, but a pleasing escort.
D. S. Acklin; none finer, a prize in the market.
Pierre Germain; elegant taste and very particular.
Chas. O'Brien; very funny and good company.
Chas. Pheatt; very engaging and as good as gone.
Frank Thomas; taken, but still good company.
Al Barber; all round favorite; excellent qualities.
Jim Pheatt; out of sight and in great demand.
Fred Dodge; sociable evening caller, but taken up.
Dr. Brewer; intelligent, fine presence, great chap.
Joe Malone; still on the fence, but may jump soon.
Clifford Lamb; good business man but spoken for.
Will Farnsworth; a railroad man and a good one.
Roy Conkling; his stock is booming right along.
Clayton Reed; up to snuff and very, very clever.
Dick Kerlin; practically off the fence, or will soon be.
Jack Hyland; railroad man, staid and best quality.
Theo. Deardorf; good quality and much sought after.
Bob Evans; of the Adonis stripe very entertaining.
Geo. Waite; bashful like his brother, but fine goods.
Byron Case; taken, but "there's many a slip," etc.
A. S. Bement; good business man in great demand.
Ralph Rickenbaugh; growing boy with a political eye.
Charley Hart; in the brick business and a brick himself.
Dudley Caughling; a leading article and can talk music.
George Braun; still in the ring and in great demand.
Ed Skinner; in the candy trade; is just about as sweet.
E. T. Newton; lawyer; charming gentleman, in demand.
Foster Simmons; cuts rates, but is a first-class catch.
James Rundell; clever in many things, excellent company.
Fred Rundell; elegant dancer, numerous other qualifications.
Price T. Germane; up in pianos and many other things.
Dick Waite; has cultivated a whisker and wears it well.
Walter Morgan; best quality and sure to be appreciative.
Herbert Baker; of old and respectable family; blue blood.
Frank Rickenbaugh; a good lawyer and practice increasing.
Geo. Bell; in the crockery line; pleasing and experienced.
Charley Martin; his motto is absolute equality for women.
Tim Doyle; a real nice catch and is willing and waiting.
Bert Hamilton; just too gay for anything; sure to suit.
Fred Kunnier, deals in real estate and has plenty of rocks.
Geo. M. Van Evra; a rare catch, but is willing to be caught.
Chas. West; slender, handsome and altogether quite a fellow.
Gus Schneizler; handsome, agreeable and a great favorite.
W. E. Purcell; still single, but will not long be so, evidently.
W. J. Booth; expects that girl in Tiffin to come to time soon.
Will Hoyt; an ice man, but not at all cold toward the ladies.
R. B. Orvis; can cut a social caper; who will take him?
Joe Cooper; newspaper man, consequently a fine article.
Walter Eley; well fortified, but Cupid's arrows are penetrating.
Jim Curran; willing and waiting for some girl to ask him.
Tribon Le Baron; still in the ring and as popular as of yore.
Geo. W. Stevens; a little rheumatic, but still able to amble.
Wink West; the perfection of dress and politeness, very gallant.
Jay Tillinghast; in business and laying up his coin of the realm.
Ralph Holbrook; high blonde, much sought after; taking style.
Fred Gibsone; finest dressed young man in town, good looking too.
Grant Benson; one of the upper swelldom, all round gentleman.
George H. Stevens; picked up, but invaluable at picnic parties.
L. W. Morris; lawyer, with Jove-like front and a Hyperian curl.
Chas. Milburn; handsomest man in Toledo almost; elegant catch.
George Boone; good democrat, handsome eyes and fancy free.
Joe Scott; bound to be one of the leading dentists of the west.
Tom Hamilton; plenty of this world's goods; a field for the girls.
Horace Hastings; portly; good natured; spoken for; too bad.
Cassius Foster; parties are a bore to him but has an elegant mustache.
Frank Lamkin; hangs high, but some nice girl can reach the plum.
Walter Brockway; a good boy and would make an A 1 benedict.
Paul Woolson; a young business man, would make a good husband.
Moulton Houk; hobby—railroads and reduced rates for the clergy.
Frank Hafer; of an old Cincinnati family; sure to give satisfaction.
St. Clair Berdan; way up in the grocery line; very entertaining.
Hugh Shunk; good stock, and can be taken without a landing net.
J. H. Barr; tip-top fellow, can do the counting to the queen's taste.
E. L. Sassaman; good head for business, well connected hard to please.
Tony Bay; one of our rising young men, and his stock is 'way up.
M. P. Murphy; of newspaperdom; indulges in the luxury of a whisker, has an eye for the ladies and is altogether quite too too.
Dudley Applegate; approachable and not too cold; needs nursing, though.
Billy Morehouse; good dresser; drives a fine horse; wary of the ladies.
Prof. Wm. McPherson; a little shy of the girls, but will stand cultivation.
I. N. Poe; staid business man, but would meet under cultivation.
Charley Parsons; owns fast horse, fine catch but probably spoken for.
Wm. Wilmington; handsome as an Apollo and a general favorite.
W. L. Holbrook; a hustler from way back, well fixed, elegant catch.
Ralph Wickham; with Norwalk aspirations, but an eye for Toledo girls.
Arthur P. Crane; as particular as he is neat and as neat as he is agreeable.
C. V. W. Whalen; quite the proper thing, no one should be without him.
W. T. Carrington; Board of Trade man; business like, but melts socially.
Henry H. Cushing; known in the Detroit market, but is a local possibility.
Henry Rouse; the backbone of M. I. Wilcox cordage company, fine gentleman.
Geo. Walbridge; in the banking line, elegant dancer, genial and a great favorite.
W. L. Faunce, courteous and elegant gentleman, up in art but hard to please.
Will Robinson; very rapid transit and somewhat of an attendant on the council.
Jerry O'Brien; has got a chip on his shoulder and dares some girl to knock it off.
Ike Haviland; tall; dignified and stately, pleasant gentleman, best whist player in town.
Jim Barr; Shaw, Kendall & Co. don't want to part with him, but he is in the market.
Walter Emerson; is looking to the law, but for all that would make a good partner.
George Hadley; in the south just at present, but will be in the swim on his return.
A. B. Hood; regular deacon, his only hobby being attending Star course entertainments.
Chas. Kinnan; a true gentleman of the old school; can teach the youngsters a trick or two.
Frank Roff; can drive a four-in-hand, stops a runaway, or lead a German with equal grace.
Dan Donovan; too modest to ask some girl, and the girl who asks him can have him if she is his size.
Judge Pugsley; fine lawyer; warm hearted, generous, and so good a friend would make a good husband.
John Gunckel; too bad girls, but somebody picked him up; would have made a great hit in the present market.
Frank Hurd; a veteran of many sieges, but victory has crowned the efforts of the weak in larger contested campaigns.
E. B. Southard; happy in the presence of womankind, and will join the majority before the year fleets its fleeting fleet.
Geo. Mills; principal of the Manual Training school; pleasant and affable; fond of the ladies, but a little too particular.

From time to time the ratings in this directory will be changed as the qualities of the gentlemen fluctuate. Gentlemen desiring space should apply to the Bee office. Descriptive matter guaranteed bona fide. As these gentlemen are taken the ladies can scratch their names from the list, in that way keeping it up to date and reliable.

NO SPECIAL MESSAGE.

Chili May Remain on the Globe.

President Harrison Will Not Send in the Correspondence for Some Time if He Does at All.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The correspondence which the president has promised to send to congress relating to the attack upon the Baltimore's sailors at Valparaiso will not be sent in to-day.

In fact, there is reason to believe that some days will elapse before the public may know just what has passed between the department of state and Minister Egan on the one side and the Chilian minister of foreign affairs and Minister Montt on the other.

The unofficial announcement of the practical completion of the judicial proceedings in Valparaiso and the intention of the Chilian legal authorities to punish the three Chilians convicted of participation in the assault, has given satisfaction here and is generally regarded as a distinct concession by the Chilians to the United States as showing that there will not, in all probability, be any further undue delay in the disposition of the case.

These tidings have not, so far as can be learned, been officially made known to Secretary Blaine by Minister Montt, and it may be that the latter will await the sentence of the convicted Chilians before he presents to the secretary the conclusions reached by the judicial authorities of his country.

With matters in this promising condition, it is therefore unlikely that a disturbing element will be introduced in the negotiations by the publication of the incomplete correspondence.

A systematic endeavor is now being made through personal appeals to senators and members to counteract whatever war sentiment may be aroused by the publication of the correspondence. These appeals are being made by persons who have large interests in Chili which would be jeopardized by a conflict and who have come to Washington from New York for no other reason than to prevent the authorization of a declaration of war should such a step be threatened. Quite a number of members were approached by these emissaries of Chili yesterday.

WELL-KNOWN TOLEDOANS

Celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

From the New York Press is taken the following notice of the observance of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Waggoner:

The "golden wedding" is an event more frequent in mention than in occurrence. Few indeed of the millions joined in wedlock are permitted to see that far distant commemoration of their union. Such an occasion occurred Tuesday evening at No. 57 McDonough street, Brooklyn, the residence of Mr. Ralph H. Waggoner, on the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of that gentleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Waggoner, of Toledo, O., December 29, 1841, the bride being Miss Sylvia B. Roberts, of Lower Sandusky (now Fremont), O., Mr. C. Waggoner being at that time publisher of the Lower Sandusky Whig. Subsequently he was publisher of the Milan Tribune, Sandusky Register and the Blade and the Commercial of Toledo, O. Few journalists have attained more just prominence and influence in Ohio than did Mr. Waggoner during the long period in which he issued the fifty bound volumes of newspapers which now constitute the rare monument to his life work. Included in the guests was Rev. J. B. Roberts, twin brother of Mrs. Waggoner.

SHERIFF IN BUSINESS.

The Clark Dry Goods Stock in the Ninth Ward Taken Possession Of.

Sheriff Stuart last night levied on the stock of clothing and dry goods owned by George T. Clark, at 1609 Broadway, Ninth ward, to satisfy an account amounting to $283.67, filed by Root & McBride Bros., of Cleveland.

Deputy Sheriff Tual served the execution. Mr. Clark was out of the city, and the officer put Mr. John Ford in charge of the stock until Mr. Clark returns and settles the claim.

NEW YORK'S LEGISLATURE

Republicans Take Their Medicine Like Men.

Robert P. Bush Speaker of the House.

Senator Edwards, the Independent Republican Who Has Kept Both Parties Guessing for Some Time, Refuses to Bolt.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The air of subdued excitement about the hotel corridors and the capitol this morning focused itself upon Independent Senator Edwards, of the Thirty-second district, and his attitude was the principal theme of discussion.

At about 10 o'clock the republicans met at the Kenmore hotel in caucus and Senator Erwin announced that as Senator Edwards had concluded in any event to go into the session he could see no alternative for the party but to go in also.

Speaker Bush.

Some time was spent in discussion over the point and then it was finally agreed to do as Mr. Erwin suggested.

The matter of contested seats was discussed at some length, and it is understood that any summary disposition of these cases will be met with the withdrawal of the republican senators.

The senate was called to order at 11:20 a. m. by Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan. The republicans did not absent themselves and there were only two vacant seats, those of Senator Saxton and Senator Sherwood, the latter being judicially declared vacant.

After prayer the members were sworn in alphabetically. A telegram stated that Senator Saxton was detained by illness.

Charles T. Gunning, the democratic nominee, was elected clerk by 17 to 13, Edwards (ind.) voting with the democrats.

The other democratic nominees for the various offices were also elected.

Senator Cantor was nominated by the democrats for president pro tem. and George Z. Erwin by the republicans. Cantor was elected.

Mr. Cantor moved the seating of Walker, democrat, from the Twenty-seventh. Mr. Erwin asked leave to present Sherwood's case. He was ruled out of order and Walker was seated. Edwards voted against him.

The house organized by electing Robert P. Bush, of Chemung county, speaker, and Charles Defreest clerk. Speaker Bush comes from Gov. Hill's county and is a warm personal friend of the ex-governor and senator.

FOOLED THE COURT.

A Disturbance Case in Police Court Turns Out Queer.

Charles Hirschfield and Louis Goldstein were tried in police court this morning for creating a disturbance at a Jewish wedding on John street, near Canton avenue, one night last week.

When the case came to trial Holt, the man who was married and who made the complaint, testified that no row occurred and denied having made any complaint to the officer. All the testimony was in this vein and the prosecutor could not convict, consequently the prisoners were discharged.

The judge, however, lectured the men and witnesses, stating that it was very evident that the witnesses had been tampered with and a job put up on the court, and he promised punishment for whoever had dared to fool his court, providing, of course, that the culprits can be found.

WANTED—AN OWNER

For a Brussels Carpet in the Hands of the Police.

In the detectives' office at the police station is a carpet almost new, containing nearly twenty-five yards of good Brussels, for which the officers are endeavoring to find an owner. The carpet has evidently been stolen and Detective Spore recovered it and arrested a fellow named Snedicker who sold the carpet to a Hebrew second-hand dealer.

When this fellow sold the carpet to the dealer he took him to a vacant house on Oswald street and after obtaining entrance through the window threw the carpet out of the same window. The Jew gave Snedicker $5 for it.

This fellow admits that the carpet does not belong to him but tells the old story of having obtained it from another man whom he cannot locate.

The officers have so far been unable to find the owner of the carpet but are holding Snedicker.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the University Extension society to-day or to-morrow. President Compton and Secretary Smead have been in correspondence with a number of centers where this system of study is being pursued, and the result will be laid before the committee. It is hoped to institute a course in Toledo by the middle of January. The course will probably begin with a study of economics, and be extended to study of history and literature.

A SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTE.

The Lucas County Farmers' Institute being held in East Toledo is progressing finely. The papers and discussions have been thus far interesting and most instructive, and those in attendance have a very pleasant visit and interchange of ideas. The papers read by L. C. Gibbs and Wm. H. Gilbert, this morning, and those by J. S. Brigham and T. B. Terry this afternoon were excellent. The institute closes this afternoon.

Offices in the Bee building are now complete, and ready for rent. They possess all modern improvements and convenience.

NOW ANSWER THIS

A Move That Forever Settles the Charge That the $5 Offer Concealed a Trick or Scheme.

It Is Practically Renewed for the Rest of the Winter—A Physician's Circular Letter and How Dr. Copeland and Associates Reply to It—They Are Permanently Located in Toledo—They Are Here to Stay.

The five-dollar rate which Dr. Copeland and associates introduced for a stated period created a genuine surprise, not only among doctors and druggists, but among newspaper readers generally. It was such a radical departure from the big fees usually charged by persons claiming to be specialists that at first it could hardly be understood by the public. Of course the rate was not exceedingly profitable to the physicians themselves, and in some cases, especially those of patients out of the city, needing special preparations or apparatus to supply the place of office treatment, it entailed a positive loss. In spite of this, however, Dr. Copeland and associates lived vigorously up to the terms of their offer and in no case was a patient charged more than $5 a month for medicines and treatment during the period the offer covered.

Envious and less successful doctors looked on at first with incredulity.

"There is some trick about it," they said. "They are going to get more money some way. They cannot treat patients and furnish medicines at $5 a month."

But in spite of this warning, intelligent newspaper readers who had carefully watched the career of Dr. Copeland and his associates during the time that they have practiced medicine in Toledo, knew that there was no trick about it. They knew that Dr. Copeland and associates religiously kept their promises to the public, and the offer met with a cordial and almost overwhelming response. Dr. Copeland and associates did what their rivals said could not be done. They did it, not only for one month, but for three consecutive months. Their incredulity gave way to anger. Envious doctors realized that a telling blow had been struck at the unreasonable system of heavy fees and expensive prescriptions. After that a remark frequently heard by discomfitted physicians was:

"Oh, true; they are simply doing that to get a crowd of people. After they get all the patients they want they will raise their rates and make a lot of money."

One physician, from another city, envious of the success of Dr. Copeland and his associates, went so far as to embody this remark in a circular letter (written on a hektograph) which he mailed to all the names he could get.

Well, we are prepared to show the weakness of this method of attack just as clearly as we have shown the weakness of other attacks from a similar source. We are going to renew that offer to all patients who can come to the office for treatment or medicines—in fact, for all cases wherein the rate does not entail a positive loss to us. Out-of-town patients will be charged only, in addition to this rate, the actual wholesale cost of whatever special preparations or appliances they may need. To local patients we will maintain the rate of $5 a month for all medicines and treatment for the remainder of the winter months, January and February. We believe this thoroughly demonstrates what we have been attempting to show, that patients can be skillfully, thoroughly and successfully treated at one-fourth, yes, one-tenth the cost charged by many who claim to be specialists.

They Are Permanently Located in Toledo.

There is one other remark that has been made which calls for a very direct and very forcible answer—the reduction of the rate to $5 a month up to a specified time gave rise to a remark from a certain source, something like this:

"Oh! they are going to take in all the money they can up to that date, then close up their office and leave the town."

Let it be clearly and distinctly stated that Dr. Copeland and associates never closed an office, their location here is permanent, their leases and contracts are for a term of years, they are here to stay and less successful physicians need not delude themselves with the hope that they are going to leave the city; they are permanently located in Toledo and will permanently give skillful, thorough and scientific treatment to all at low and uniform rates. Let there be no misunderstanding about this.

"I had several hemorrhages, and this, together with the constant violent pains in my chest drove me to think I had consumption. After treating but a short time I have gained in flesh and strength. All my troublesome symptoms have disappeared. I feel like working; in fact I never felt better than I do now. I freely recommend Dr. Copeland and associates, and my friends can testify to the wonderful and rapid improvement which I have made," says Mr. N. R. Dull, of 2215 Lorlie street.

"My head was racked with pains. My nostrils would stop up constantly. The mucus would drop into my throat, causing me to hawk and spit continually. My throat became raw and sore. I felt tired in the morning upon arising. My limbs pained me. I had both dull and sharp pains in the chest. My appetite was very poor. Nothing seemed to nourish me. I grew despondent and was a physical wreck. I called on Dr. Copeland and associates and took their treatment. My troubles have disappeared, owing to the skillful treatment I received of these physicians." This from C. E. McLean, 935 Indiana avenue.

"Eight months ago I had to quit work, because I could get no sleep—I would cough continually during the night, and had begun to think that my friends were really right; I would not be long for this world. Although in this terrible condition, it was hard to give up, and while reading the paper one day I was attracted by the wonderful cures of Dr. Copeland and associates, and I concluded to consult them. I took their treatment and they have made a new man of me," says Mr. James Young, 1325 Nevada street.

"My head and nose were constantly stopped up and I could scarcely breathe, except through my mouth. My throat was always sore and my mouth dry and parched. I had pains in the head and my eyes became very dim; ringing noises in the ears, and whenever I stooped and would suddenly raise up I would become so dizzy that I would have to hold to something for support. My symptoms have all disappeared and, although 78 years of age, I feel young again, and I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Copeland and associates." This statement is made by John R. Taylor, Sylvania, Ohio.

Their Credentials.

As has been said, Dr. W. H. Copeland is a graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, of the City of New York, was president of his class in that famous institution and after thorough hospital training and experience devoted his time and attention to the special lines of practice noted below. Years of experience in their special lines, preceded by extensive hospital work, has fitted Dr. Copeland and his associates in a notable degree for the practice of their profession.

Dr. Copeland and associates are permanently located in this city. Their lease and contracts are for a term of years.

Dr. Copeland and associates treat successfully all curable cases at the Copeland Medical Institute, 706 Madison St. Office hours, 9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Specialties—Catarrh and all diseases of the eye, ear, throat and lungs, chronic diseases.

CONGRESS IS IN SESSION

Busy Scenes in Washington Once More.

Preparing for a Flood of Measures.

Much Regret Shown at the Continued Illness of Speaker Crisp—Washington Gossip.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Goldsmiths "Deserted Village" would have found a rival in the capitol building during the holiday recess of congress, but to-day the scene was changed and the empty corridors resounded with the tread of many feet.

Members began arriving early and nearly all of them seems glad to get back. The senate chamber before the hour of assembly was as quiet as ever, but the floor of the house was very lively.

Groups of members and their acquaintances were telling stories and talking over the prospects of the legislature.

There was much regret at Speaker Crisp's continued illness and inquiries concerning his health were anxiously made. A few members were disposed to express dissatisfaction that no bill day had been had in house while the senate had had several, but the majority of the members devoted themselves to preparing the bills whose introduction has been delayed and smiled serenely at the kickers.

Personal Mention.

Congressmen Haynes, Owens and Warwick are back from the holiday recess. The first two are accompanied by their families. Col. Haynes is at the Riggs and Owens is at the National.

The house committees will organize this week and at once get down to work.

Mr. Blanchard, of the rivers and harbors committee, says that committee will be ready to report a bill by the first of March. He is confident that a bill giving good and reasonable appropriations will be passed.

SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

POCKET PICKED.

Mrs. John Nitz, living at 1306 Nebraska avenue, was robbed of $18 on the market space this morning. She was bargaining for some meat and had the money in her pocket when a man reached into her pocket, grabbed the money and ran.

DIFFERENT THEN.

A man named Ed. Farley, was tried in police court yesterday for choking his mother, Mrs. Maria Kelly, of East Toledo. During the trial Farley seemed to think the matter was very funny, but when sentence was pronounced this morning and he was fined $15 and costs, he changed his face.

THE O'DWYER TRIAL.

The board of police commissioners will meet to-morrow evening but Mayor Emmick says that the charges against Chief O'Dwyer will not be taken up on account of the sickness of Commissioner Kruse, which will prevent him from attending the meeting. The mayor says that he wants a full board present when the investigation is made.

A BAD COON.

Allen Green, the colored minister who has been under arrest for several days for burglarizing two smoke houses, had a hearing in police court this morning on another charge of grand larceny, for stealing a bicycle from Colton & Hickox. This charge did not hold, however, and was dismissed, but he is still held for the meat.

TRIED TO PASS ON SAME TRACK.

Two electric cars, Nos. 37 and 29, on the Robison line, collided on Ontorio street this morning. No. 29 was running on time and was nearing a switch to wait for 37 to pass. On account of the heavy fog, the motor man of 37 was unable to see ahead and supposed that No. 29 was late. He went on, hence the collision. Both motors were pretty badly jammed up, but no one was injured.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

An interesting double wedding took place in the parlors of the New York house this morning in which the contracting parties were H. P. Beatty and Miss Annie E. Ogle, C. M. Whitmore and Miss Belle Flesh, all of Prairie Depot. The nuptial knot was neatly tied by Justice Parker and everybody was made happy

DECEMBER WEATHER.

The meteorological summary issued from the Toledo weather office by Observer Hagen shows that the mean barometer for the month of December was 30.128; mean temperature, 37.5; prevailing direction of wind southwest, with a total movement of 9,369 miles; maximum velocity, 40 miles from the southwest on the 4th; total precipitation, 1.49 inches. There was a Lunar halo on the 14th.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS' PAY.

The county commissioners yesterday afternoon authorized the sheriff to appoint four deputies according to the salary law, to be designated as first, second and third fourth deputies and turnkey. The salary of the first deputy was fixed at $1,200 per year; second, $1,000, third deputy and turnkey, $800.

The sheriff's deputies were appointed as before with the exception of a new man Frank Martin, who was appointed this morning.

JUDGE MILLARD SPEAKS

Relative to the Controversy Between Police Officials.

Day by day the Emmick-Sala policy web which was apparently woven so neat and close about Chief O'Dwyer, is being unwound, and the unscrupulous measures taken by these two officials to accomplish their purpose stand out brazen and bold.

The head of Chief O'Dwyer is in demand, and the court in its offended dignity could not command that it be brought in on a platter, hence contempt to his honor is smothered and the police board is appealed to.

While the mayor and police judge were planning their campaign, Judge Millard's communication to the mayor was received. It was just what the pair wanted, and to give force to their charge, they turned this letter, which complained of the act of a policeman, to account in their scheme against Chief O'Dwyer. The following conversation with Judge Millard reveals the true state of affairs, and illustrates how innocent and free from prejudice Mayor Emmick and Judge Sala are in this matter.

"What have you against Chief O'Dwyer?" inquired a Bee of Judge Millard this morning.

"The probate court has no jurisdiction over the police force, and is pretty careful to mind its own business," was the answer.

"But your letter is in the mayor's complaint against the chief."

"So it is, and the history is as follows: When Streicher was brought before the probate court he was badly rattled, and from his looks I thought it possible that the blow by the officer making the arrest had dazed him and that he would be better in a few days; and instead of holding an inquest at once, as we usually do, I sent him to jail and requested Dr. Kitchen, the jail physician, to attend and watch the case and report his conclusions to me later. Some two or three days later he told me the man was improved, but clearly insane; and then said that Streicher had been most shamefully misused by the officer arresting him, and that he was all covered with bruises over the chest, arms and abdomen, from thumps received in the arrest. The doctor was so wrought up that he was going to create a small war on his own account, but I counseled delay and more consideration. To this he acceded, and matters ran along for a week, perhaps, he all the time feeling aggrieved, and so I told him if he would make his complaint in writing I would lay it before the mayor with a recommendation to investigate the officer making the arrest and see if he had used unnecessary violence. This was done, and you know the balance. I only want to say that Dr. Kitchen was perfectly conscientious in what he did, and felt all he said; and was not in consultation with anyone but myself on the subject, as I believe, and that what he and I both want to know is that there is not an officer on the force who will beat a man more than is necessary to make an arrest. It seems to me the officer himself should have this examination to show that he was not exceeding his duty in the bruises he gave."

SOPHIA LYONS DIVORCED.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 5.—The famous crook, Sophia Lyons, who has operated in Europe as well as in all the large cities of this country, and who returned from Paris several weeks ago, was granted a divorce in the circuit court from Ned Lyons. The grounds for the divorce were non-support.

HAS NAMED THE MEN.

Important Offices Filled by the President.

POLICE SENSATION.

Charges Preferred Against Deputy Clerk Tanner

By His Chief, Clerk Fogarty—The Board of Revision to Investigate

At a meeting of the board of revision this afternoon a sensation was sprung in the shape of charges of irregularity against Police Clerk S. F. Tanner.

These charges consisted of a communication from Clerk M. C. Forgarty, stating that he believed irregularities had occurred as follows: On December 23d, 1891, Henry Finnan, watchman of the W. & L. E. railway, arrested one Terrance Mahoney, for petit larceny. The prisoner was taken to the station but the next morning the case was settled by the payment of $3.20 costs, which was paid to Tanner and no record was made.

The board will commence an investigation to-morrow morning.

INSTALLED WITH POMP.

The Incoming Officers of the Produce Exchange.

A Supper at the Club Follows the Count of Votes—Introductions and Addresses To-Day.

After the count of votes in the Produce Exchange election yesterday afternoon the newly-elected officers put up an elaborate supper at the Toledo club for the tellers, and this noon the tellers reciprocated by presenting each of the new officers with a handsome buttonhole bouquet.

Secretary D. B. Smith called the 'Change to order at noon to-day, and in a brief speech, introduced the new president, Mr. F. I. King.

Mr. King, in returning thanks for the honor conferred on him, said he hoped this was the beginning of another harmonious and prosperous year. A few years ago Detroit secured, he said, part of the wheat trade for which Toledo was the natural outlet. Now our contract grade commands the respect of the world and a price which has enabled us to recover and increase our trade. Last August Detroit received less than 2,000,000 and Toledo over 7,000,000 bushels of wheat. Our seed dealers have had a larger direct export trade with Europe than ever before and the Chicago papers recognize this as the leading clover seed market. Our local dealers will soon be moving millions of corn from the interior direct to the east. Our milling capacity has recently been doubled and the outlook for the members of this board is very bright.

Can we do anything to make it brighter? Should not the directors provide a committee on weights to take such measures as will prevent any complaints, and a committee on quotations to see that our market is properly quoted here and elsewhere. Should not the committee on harbor enlist the support of the great railroad, coal, ore, lumber and shipping interests and show the city council that millions of capital and thousands of laborers are directly interested in having the river properly dredged before navigation begins. Grain men are so modest that some of our citizens fail to appreciate that last summer we employed over a thousand men at about $80,000 a month salary.

In conclusion Mr. King moved a vote of thanks to the retiring president, Mr. Zahm, which was adopted with a cheer, and then Mr. King introduced the first vice president, Mr. Southworth.

Mr. Southworth delivered a brief but humorous address in which he referred to Mr. King's speech as the one he (Southworth) had prepared for the occasion. He had intended to dilate on the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States, but he thought Mr. King had fully covered the subject. Thanking the members for the honor paid him, he introduced Mr. Paddock—the second vice-president.

Mr. Paddock said he thanked his coworkers on 'Change and said he endorsed all President King had said. He was in favor of maintaining the high character of the Toledo market and the high grade of inspection adopted. He thought the matter of harbor improvements should be seriously considered by the Produce Exchange and some action taken.

THE MAENNERCHOR.

The Toledo Maennerchor, the popular German musical society, met and elected officers as follows:

President—Robert Sussman.
Vice-president—Phillip Ernst.
Secretary—John Graf.
Corresponding secretary—Wm. Renz.

MORE DYNAMITE.

Another Explosion in St. Louis To-day.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—A dynamite bomb has just been exploded in the circuit clerk's office in the city court building.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. T. Lewis is laid up with an attack of the grip.

Mr. J. Louis Kirschner, of Tiffin, is in the city on business.

Mrs. Bert St. John and Mrs. Ovid Law erturned to Chicago this week.

Mr. F. B. Dodge is still on the sick list with symptoms of typhoid fever.

Mrs. T. S Parkhust is laid up with a somewhat serious attack of the grippe.

Miss May Cardinal is lying sick with la grippe at her home on North Erie street.

C. F. Ferguson, of Blissfield, Mich., is in the city to-day on business. Mr. F. is one of Blissfield's best painters.

The funeral of Mrs. Wesley Chamberlin, a highly respected lady of East Toledo, took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon noon.

Mr. Gerndt, the photographer, returned from Columbus last evening where he has been spending the holidays with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burdick and baby, left this morning for their Wyoming home Mr. Burdick having almost entirely recovered from the results of the Lake Shore accident.

Dr. James Coldham fell at the corner of Monroe street and Market Space, about 2:30 this afternoon, and was hurt, how badly cannot yet be determined. He was taken to his home.

A dispatch from Mr. P. T. Germane last evening conveys the cheering intelligence that he found his mother not beyond hope when he reached the old home at Oriskany Falls, and although she is alarmingly ill with pneumonia, she may yet recover. All friends of Mr. Germane will, with him, hope for the best.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

British Breadstuffs.

London, Jan. 5.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheats have been selling at a decline since Christmas, and the mean values during December were 5d below that of November. The average for the entire year, however, shows an advance of 5s 4d on the figures of 1890. The fact that the American wheat surplus of 1891 is the largest on record is advanced as an argument of ultimate firmness. American wheat sold slowly.

The imports of wheat and flour for the last four months have met the whole inquiry, without having recourse to home grown wheat. The trade in spring corn has been slightly in favor of buyers.

To-day English wheats were held firmly. Foreign wheats showed no improvement, large stocks requiring to be worked off. Barley was steady with an improved retail demand.

In the market for oats prices were firmly maintained. The market for Indian corn was in favor of buyers.

Northwest Wheat Stocks.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 5.—Figures compiled by the Northwestern Miller show the stock of wheat in private elevators of Minneapolis to be 1,681,000 bu., 36,000 bu. less than last Monday. The total stock at Minneapolis and Duluth is 16,793,036 bu., against 15,589,670 bu. a week ago.

The Market Record reports the stock of wheat in country elevators of Minnesota and the two Dakotas at 11,677,600 bu., or 62,500 bu. more than last Monday. This makes the aggregate northwestern stocks 28,470,636 bu., an increase of 1,265,066 bu. A year ago the total stock was 22,354,000 bu.

Exports of Breadstuffs for Europe.

Liverpool, Jan. 4.

Special Cable to Daily Trade Bulletin, Chicago:

Shipments of flour and wheat to United Kingdom during the past week, 3,910,000 bu.; to continent, 1,690,000 bu.; total, 5,560,000. Shipments during the week previous, 5,160,000 bu. Requirements, 7,000,000 bu.

Argentine shipments of wheat are commencing. Russia has granted permission to Roumania to transport grain via Odessa in bond.—Corn Trade News.

The clearances of flour and wheat to Europe since August 1—22 weeks—as cabled to the Daily Trade Bulletin, have been as follows: To U. K., 90,590,000 bu.; to continent, 103,950,000 bu.; total, 194,540,000 bu. Requirements, 154,000,000 bu.

The Markets.

London wheat and corn markets quiet and inactive. French country markets quiet. Liverpool wheat opens 1-2 pence lower, but steady at decline and demand improving. Corn steady.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 613,208 bu, compared with 282,936 bu on the same day last year.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 3,808,000 bu of wheat and 313,000 bbls of flour, equal to 5,216,000 bu of wheat, and probably 2,000,000 bu in excess of requirements of foreign wheat. Imports of corn equaled 700,000 bu.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage decreased last week 1,872,000 bu, being a decrease to the United Kingdom of 360,000 bu and a decrease to the continent of 1,512,000 bu. Corn increased 1,368,000 bu, being an increase of 808,000 bu to the United Kingdom and 560,000 bu to the continent.

Our table herein of available wheat and corn shows a decrease of 824,493 bu of wheat, and an increase of 2,584,943 bu corn.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 330,272 bu. in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1891.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 220,723 bu., and flour to an aggregate of 290,000 bu. The exports of corn were 226,611 bu., and of oats 29,330 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull in London, and firm in Liverpool at a decline of 1-2d on wheat. Corn quiet and steady.

American Dealers Depressing American Values.

Grain letter writers and newspaper grain articles from Chicago and eastward seem wholly to ignore the admitted fact that this country holds the key of values of grain in all the markets of the world, and instead of assuming that position and encouraging firmness in our own markets these letters and papers are constantly asserting that we must wait for indications of value from abroad, meantime advocating depression of prices at home. It seems to us almost that this country was not deserving a bountiful crop. They certainly are badly deficient in good management of one. Since June 1 the sellers of wheat have crowded the markets of the old world. The sale of 50,000,000 of wheat before a bushel of the crop was moved was the beginning, and that policy has been pursued on a more limited scale ever since. We have ourselves done more to depress values than all the importing markets combined. What is the use? We shall not export a bushel more than we are now moving by pushing down the price. It is the continental dull season abroad. Can we not be a little patient until the demand increases. The importations to the continent and England have fallen off. The ocean stock decreased again last week 1,872,000 bu, and 2,592,000 by the week before. The ocean stock destined for the continent is now 10,440,000 bu. It has decreased 10,100,000 bu since September 22. The ocean stock to the United Kingdom is only 4,000,000 bu greater than January 4, 1891. Let us brace up a little and see how it works.

The Markets To-Day.

The wheat markets in this country opened weak, and later made a decline at Chicago and New York of 1-2 for May, and for along time it was a dragging, steady market. An hour before the close prices became firmer, principally it is alleged upon purchases by previous short sellers. There was no news to change the basis of values.

Corn has been an interesting deal for its friends and has ruled a little higher and firm.

Liverpool is quoted 1-2 lower but we do not believe it. Yesterday Chicago quoted Liverpool 1 1-2 lower which was inaccurate.

Berlin is quoted a shade higher, but we expected a shade lower. Paris unchanged on wheat. Flour easier.

In New York January wheat closed 1-4c and May 5-8c higher. January corn 3-8c and May 1-8c higher. January oats 1-8c lower. In Chicago January wheat closed 3-8c and May 5-8c higher. January corn 5-8c and May 1-2c higher. January oats 1c up.

In Toledo the trading in wheat shows considerable improvement in the aggregate business, and while prices at the opening were 1-2c lower and declined an additional 1-4c, the market became firm. The close showed a gain of 1-4c compared with yesterday. On the call May sold at 99 1-8c to 99. After the call February and May sold at 95 1-4c and closed at 95 3-4c. May sold at 99c to 98 3-4c and closed at 99 3-4c.

After 'change 75,000 bu May sold at $1 00.

Cash wheat was in light request only. No. 2 soft opened at a loss of 3-4 at 93 1-2 and closed at 94 1-2, a gain of 1-4; No. 3 soft at 90 1-2 to 90, and closed at 91; No. 1 white at 93 1-2.

Corn, No. 3 at 39 to 39 1-2; No. 4 at 37 1-2; No. 3 yellow at 41. Rye, No. 2 at 88; No. 3 at 85. Dressed hogs at $4 50. Clover seed was less active, but without notable change in price. On the call the market was 5c up; February sold at $5 80 and March at $5 85. After the call March sold at $5 80; prime for cash at $5 70; No. 2 at $5 40 to $5 50.

Trading on the stock exchange this morning showed some falling off from that done during the same hours yesterday, but dealings were still on an extensive scale. In the two hours to noon 225,400 shares had changed hands. New England, C., C., C. & St. L., L., N., A. & C., Erie preferred, Colorado coal and whisky trusts absorbed most of the speculative interest. At the opening prices were either unchanged from those of last evening or a slight fraction better. New England was the strongest, showing an advance 7-8. In the early dealings New England further advanced, and at its highest point was 1 3-8 per cent better than yesterday's price. Louisville N., A. & C. advanced 1 1-2. A subsequent selling caused the whole list to decline under the lead of Erie preferred, which fell 1 per cent. Towards 11 o'clock the market was again strong, led by the whisky trusts, which advanced from 74 1-2 to 76. At 11 o'clock the market was unsettled. In the hour to noon the market was buoyant in tone. Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Susquehanna & Western preferred and Colorado coal made the greatest advances. At noon the advance ranged from 1-8 to 3 1-2 per cent. At this writing the market is less active and not so firm.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Opening: Wheat—May, 94 3-4c. Corn—January, 38 1-8c; May, 41 1-8@41 1-4c. Oats—January, 28 3-8c; May, 31c. Pork—January, $10 50; May, $10 95. Lard—January, $6 07 1-2; May, $6 35. Ribs—January, $5 22 1-2; May, $5 60.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Fixes the Salaries of Pastors and Elects Two New Trustees.

At a special meeting of the pew owners of the First Congregational church held last evening, Franklin Hubbard and Solomon Keeler were re-elected trustees.

After some discussion it was decided to fix the salaries of the pastors as follows: Rev. Dr. Williams, $2,000; Rev. D. M. Fisk, $4,000.

The church is in excellent condition, and the prospects for a good year are very flattering.

HAS M'CONICA DODGED?

Reported to Have Gone Back on Foraker.

A Findlay Dispatch Says He Will Vote for Foster on the First Ballot and Then for Sherman.

Columbus, Jan. 5.—(Special)—A Findlay special to the Enquirer says:

It can be stated authoritatively that Senator McConica, who has heretofore been counted as one of the sure supporters of Gov. Foraker in the senatorial contest now on, will cast his vote in the caucus for Hon. Charles Foster.

Senator McConica's constituents are largely for Senator Sherman, while his personal preference is for Foraker. Therefore, in order to preserve his political future, he will vote for Foster, and probably in the end for John Sherman. The majority of the best republicans of Findlay are for Sherman, and McConica cannot afford to disregard their wishes on the senatorial question.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Masonic fraternity loses a bright light in the death of Judge Asher Cook, of Perrysburg.

Jacob Kulde, one of Toledo's oldest German residents, died yesterday. He was well known and much respected.

In police court this morning Fred Kessinger was fined $20 and costs and 30 days for stealing an umbrella.

The case of the City of Toledo against Calvin Cone, for the change of grade of Oliver street, was taken up for hearing in probate court this morning and continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Joseph Ziegler wishes to announce to his friends and patrons that he has associated with him in business Mr. W. F. Mack, the firm name hereafter being Ziegler & Mack. We bespeak for the new firm a liberal patronage.

Harry Thompson, a white man, attempted to carry off four chickens from Mrs. Scrivens' coop in the rear of her saloon on the market space. He failed, however, and in police court this morning was fined $10, costs and 15 days in the workhouse.

At the meeting of St. Joseph's Catholic church, the following gentlemen were elected as councilmen: Peter Gendron, Henry Holliger, Jos. Dasseau, M. DeMarsh, Herman La Plant. Here after the council will attend to all financial matters, which will relieve the priest in charge.

On Wednesday evening, January 13, Rev. D. M. Fisk, of the First Congregational church, will lecture at the Washington Street Congregational church. Subject, "Wanted, a Man for the Twentieth Century." The lecture will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

SPECIAL PENSIONS.

TOLEDO, OHIO, JANUARY 5, 1892.

The ex-admiral of canal marine is having a hard time with his Foraker constituents.

Gov. Campbell's message breaks the record for brevity. He leaves the work of recommendation to his successor.

If republican theory is correct and republican argument good on the subject of prohibitive protection, then the tory party of the Dominion is right, and true to the interests of its country in refusing to make a free trade treaty wtih the United States.

Two hitherto non-committal senators declared themselves for Sherman yesterday, still the situation is so uncertain that even the Sherman papers are not in a boastful mood to-day. The caucus will be held Wednesday night.

If it be true, as affirmed, that the Russian government refused an offer of 14,000,000 roubles for its starving peasants, from wealthy and titled Russians, because the donors insisted upon controling its distribution, then Russia should be stricken from the list of Christian nations. The grounds of the refusal were that the government cannot confer such authority on a non-official body.

The American Hosiery Co. of New Britain, Conn., cut the wages of its employes ten per cent. with the beginning of the year. And this company sent a representative before the McKinley committee to promise what it could do for labor if the tariff on its product was increased, which was done. And every buyer of socks and stockings contributes to that end; the price has increased little or much on every grade of goods, and when you ask the merchants why this is thus, they tell you the increase of the tariff is responsible. We know who pays the tax and we know labor is not benefitted. Who gets the increase?

The Tolstoi family, through the "Society of American Friends of Russian Freedom," appeal for aid for the starving peasantry of their country. Members of the Tolstoi family have gone into different portions of the stricken territory, to establish soup kitchens and aid in the distribution of contributed charity. Until this influential and capable family took the matter in hand, it has been quite impossible to learn the exact condition of the suffering ones or to extend them aid. The society mentioned above will forward contributions direct to Countess Tolstoi in Moscow. Remittances should be addressed to Francis J. Garrison, 4 Park Place, Boston. These will be acknowledged upon receipt, by the countess.

"ENGLISH AS SHE IS WROTE."

Even funnier than the clown in cap and bells is the man with the quill who attempts wit or fine writing and makes a burlesque of it. This kind of writer sometimes gets into a conspicuous place and makes a target of himself. One of these is disporting himself in the columns of a Toledo Foraker organ. Hear this, relative to the Laylin victory:

"They brought out the welkin which had been concealed in Senator Sherman's vest-pocket for a week, and made it ring. They must have taken it back, for they had ceased to ring it after the first two or three blows. It is understood from those on the inside that Col. Andy Hickinger did some hammering on the welkin."

Sherman's vest-pocket is a capacious one, but he could hardly carry the welkin in it.

Evidently the staff correspondent thinks Drake wrote about a dinner gong, or snare drum or something similar in his immortal verse.

It is respectfully suggested that the organ take out a patent on its new discovery and offer a "welkin" with a cheap boy to "hammer" it thrown in, as a premium to new subscribers.

THE MORAL SIDE OF THE TARIFF.

A late number of the "Christian Union" contains an interesting paper by Mr. Allen A. Keene on a phase of the tariff question which is too little considered. He writes of conditions "along the border between the state of Maine and the province of New Brunswick—particularly of that section of the border that separates Calais on the American side from St. Stephen and Milltown on the Canadian side."

The St. Croix river runs between the two countries here, and the river is so spanned with bridges that the people virtually form one community, some twelve thousand of them, of whom rather more than one-half are in Calais. Manufacture of cotton goods, and shoes, and lumber mills are the principal industries, but the great bulk of business in those towns, Mr. Keene discovers, "are consumptive activities, such as retailing of dry goods, groceries, etc." He finds further that while the manufactories are in the hands of a very few men, every man is interested in the consumptive activities, either as buyer or seller. He further finds that goods are cheaper on the American side, and that pretty much every man on both sides is a smuggler. He says:

"The 'American' retailer cannot resist the temptation to increase his sales, nor the Canadian consumer to lessen his expenses; and the Canadian retailer, in order to successfully compete with the 'American' retailer, and to maintain a fair trade among his own countrymen, has recourse to wholesale smuggling. For this, 'professional' smugglers are employed, who are paid a definite sum, and are not held responsible for the goods should the latter happen to be seized and confiscated by the custom-house officer. But there is little to be feared on the part of the smuggler, whether 'professional' or not, from that officer. He is a citizen and social member of this same community, whose citizens, as a whole, wink at and indorse smuggling by participating in it; and of course he does not feel at liberty—surely he would not feel so long—to come into conflict with the general sentiment of the community by, so far as possible, detecting and legally punishing smugglers."

On this Mr. Keene moralizes at length, and presents to the readers of the "Christian Union" the spectacle of whole communities in two enlightened, Christian countries, mocking at, ignoring or defying the laws of their lands. To his apprehension the result of this "looseness, not to say lawlessness," is a moral detriment, decreasing the self respect and degrading the character of the law-breakers. Of this he says:

"So long as the commercial regulations between the two countries remain substantially as they are at present, there is little reason to expect that this general custom of law-breaking will lose its hold to any considerable extent. The people on the border will always feel that such tariff restrictions on trade as now exist are unnatural, needless and unjust, and this feeling, reinforced by the desire to get the most possible in return for their money, will induce them to break the laws. And yet to do this is inevitably to incur conscious degradation of character."

It requires little thought to see the force of Mr. Keene's argument and the justice of his conclusion. Nothing is more fatal to a community and nothing more infectious, than contempt for law. It is a state not desirable, but following inevitably upon the enactment of laws "unnatural, needless and unjust."

On the Right Track.

Our esteemed, if somewhat impulsive neighbor, the Boston Post, has apparently abandoned its recent favorite, Gov. Russell, as a candidate for the presidency, and fallen back upon Grover Cleveland as the man for that place. This is sensible and practical. If Massachusetts is to be felt in the matter of a presidential candidate, the quicker she concentrates her influence for Grover Cleveland the better.—Boston Herald.

Secretary Foster's Strain.

It is feared that Secretary Foster will meet with the fate which overtook Folger, Manning and Windrim, his predecessors If a treasury overflowing with a surplus was too hard for them to manage, it is certainly a more severe strain to keep up increased expenditures with a deficit caused by a decreased income.—Kansas City Times.

And Lock the Door on Himself.

Matters look a little bit chilly for Mr. Raum. In fact it may get so cold for him before the present congress gets through with him that in sheer self protection the pension commissioner will be obliged to crawl into one of his own patent refrigerators to keep warm.—Chicago Post.

And So They Go.

Foraker is charging honest John Sherman with bribery and corruption in the Ohio senatorial fight. A couple of years ago Honest John Sherman charged Foraker with forgery, and what is more, proved it. And so they go.—The Metropolis.

They Will Win, Never Fear.

The democratic party can win victory next November, or it can throw it away. It will do the former if it makes the tariff the paramount issue; it will do the latter if it declares for free silver coinage.—Atlanta Journal.

Not Going to Get It.

As between Ingalls and Perkins the people of Kansas would have preferred Ingalls. Ingalls has brains, at any rate. But the people of Kansas are not going to get what they prefer when a republican governor can help it.—St. Louis Republic.

Very Likely.

The meeting of "American tin plate manufacturers," called for St. Louis, has been postponed, perhaps because there are no American tin plate manufacturers.—Kansas City Star.

Not Uncle John.

Something is about to drop in the state of Ohio; and there are many reasons for believing that it will not be your Uncle Sherman.—Washington Post.

THE FIGHT AT COLUMBUS.

Squelched—Foraker. 'Rah!—Boston Herald.

Latest advices from Columbus state that both Sherman and Foraker will be elected to-morrow night.—Chicago Mail.

If Foraker should succeed in breaking into the United States senate, Quay might feel less lonely than he does now.—New York World.

As Senator Sherman never has any luck in a national convention, it seems right that he should have some in the Ohio legislature. —Courier-Journal.

Time will now quickly bring the conclusion of this matter. Thus far it has shown the "pool of politics," in Ohio at least, to be as filthy as the phrase assumes. Foraker elected in this way would be logical and prophetic.—Indianapolis News.

It will now be in order for the mugwump press to resume their editorials on "the passing of Foraker." The warlike ex-governor is gradually becoming a stereotyped passer—a sort of passer domesticus, distinguished chiefly by his numerousness and his insistence as to uttering vocal sounds.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Sherman gets first blood in the contest for the Ohio senatorship, but Foraker is still in the ring, and not too badly disfigured, either. A majority of four votes in the speakership caucus seems by no means conclusive, for, as Foraker remarks, "the speakership contest is not the senatorial contest." It looks very like Sherman, but the fun in Columbus is not yet over.—St. Louis Republic.

Senator Sherman's victory in the first skirmish for the Ohio senatorship is satisfactory as far as it goes; but the meagre majority by which it was gained is hardly a positive assurance of triumph in the final fight. Surprise is expressed that Mr. Foraker should develop so much strength in the face of the assistance which the national administration is freely according to Mr. Sherman; but those who show this astonishment must be curiously blind to the change that is all the time going on in the republican party, the effect of which is to relegate its best and ablest men to the rear.—Boston Herald.

Democrats and decent republicans will read with pleasure the telegrams from Ohio which indicate the failure of this blatherskite's impudent attempt to secure an election to the United States senate. They will also take a peculiar satisfaction in this specimen sentence from his Columbus speech: "I so believe in the principles and doctrines of republicanism that I could no more be a democrat than I could steal my neighbor's horse." The Herald has no means of knowing how difficult it would be for Foraker to steal a horse, but, praise God, it is well aware that there are mental and moral reasons why he cannot be a democrat.—Chicago Herald.

The state of Ohio is just now wandering whether John Sherman or ex-Governor Foraker is to represent her in the United States senate. The rest of the country is wondering why Ohio should hesitate a moment in making her choice, because as a general rule it is easy to decide whether you will take a $20 gold piece or a battered penny if you have the opportunity to do as you please.—New York Herald.

FRAUDULENT SOLICITORS

Seeking Advertising Under False Pretenses—Notice to the Public.

For several days past it appears that a man representing himself as delegated by the Central Labor union has been going around the city soliciting advertising under the pretense that said advertising is for the Central Labor union.

These facts having been brought to the attention of the union, the following official and self-explanatory notice was issued:

Toledo, O., January 4, 1892.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that the Central Labor Union of Toledo has authorized no one to solicit and receive patronage for any advertising scheme of any nature whatever. This declaration is drawn forth by the appearance of an advertising chart or hanger purporting to be fathered or endorsed by the Central Labor Union.

Without the signature of the proper officers and the seal of the Central Labor Union attached, no document, petition or paper whatsoever is or has been issued by said body. Respectfully,

ROBT. F. BOOTH, President C. L. U.

Attest: A. J. SMITH, Secretary.

RAILROAD ELECTION.

Directors and Officers of the Sandusky Ashland and Southern Elected.

Norwalk, Jan. 5.—The annual meeting of the Sandusky, Ashland & Southern railroad company held yesterday at Sandusky, selected the following named directors: Hon. John Mackey, Sandusky, C. L. Wagner, Sandusky, Hon. C. P. Wickham, Norwalk, W. T. Alberson,, Ashland.

The following officers were chosen: John Mackey, president, C. P. Wickham, vice-president, A. W. Miller, secretary and treasurer, John B. Hoxsey, New York, manager.

SULLIVAN TO SOBER UP.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 5.—John L. Sullivan says he has sworn off drinking for a year. He wants a match with Slavin but is afraid that Slavin won't come to time.

HAS FALLEN THROUGH.

New York, Jan. 5.—No one appeared to represent Slavin and the holder of the $2,500 forfeit paid it over to Johnston, Sullivan's backer. It looks as if the match had fallen through.

MANY GRIP CASES.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 5.—There are over 2,000 cases of grip in this city and vicinity and the disease is spreading.

GRIP DEATHS.

New York, Jan. 5.—There were 14 deaths from grip yesterday.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That Flickinger is now master of all he surveys.

That the kids are in control of the produce exchange.

That every word of Gov. Campbell's message was read.

That sleigh-ride parties were the popular thing last night.

That the contest for police clerk is becoming rather warm between Fogarty, Tanner and Weier.

That the present stiff weather will stop the grip, or nothing will.

That rabbit hunters took to the woods in large numbers yesterday.

That the board of education will throw out city gas and burn coal and wood.

That an amicable agreement has been reached on the price of illuminating gas.

That Hiram P. McKnight's eloquence had no effect on Lucas county courts.

That the old-time piles of coal along the sidewalk advertise the gas situation.

That Mayor Emmick feels he has been vindicated on the street railway ordinance.

That the farmers' institute was reasonably well attended and successful throughout.

That steps will soon be taken by the Catholics of Toledo to welcome Bishop Horstman.

That a ripper is being prepared for the city, the extent of which has not yet been fully determined.

That the sleighing was very good last night in the city's streets and was thoroughly appreciated.

That there seems to be difficulty with some of the banks to agree on presidents for the coming year.

That the police board could make money by charging an admission fee to their meeting to-morrow night.

That there is a demand for Toledo educators to address teachers' institutes in various parts of the state.

That the trains of electric cars presented a novel sight to Toledoans while plowing through the snow yesterday.

That the trial of Chief O'Dwyer will go over to-morrow night on account of the illness of Commissioner Kruse.

That Ohio gained another United States senator in the selection from Kansas, Mr. Perkins hailing from the Buckeye state.

That in the event of the rejection of Voit by the council, either Jake Romeis or Charley Vordtriede will be sent in.

That the mayor's veto of the street railway ordinance went with the councilmen last night, not by a large majority, but enough to suit all purposes.

That Charley Sumner was taken in out of the wet yesterday for another year, being confirmed as assistant prosecuting attorney.

That Toledo horsemen are not only cruel in the retention of the barbarous over-head check rein, but they are "out of style."

That Representative Flickinger will determine, with Speaker Laylin, what counties will compose the congressional districts of the northwest.

That the screws are being tightened on refractory republicans in the council to compel them to vote for Voit for gas trustee.

That "Nervy" Ford, who some months since was hustling for insurance risks in Toledo, is cutting a great swath at Columbus as one of the legislators from Cincinnati.

That the fact that Tanner don't resign, since Fogarty has asked him to, is creating considerable comment among people who claim to know the inside of affairs.

That several Toledoans will have business down town to-morrow evening until after news is received from the senatorial caucus at Columbus. Some may not get home till morning.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

Afternoon and Evening Meetings of These Active Organizations.

The members of the New Century club have received in pamphlet form Gov. Ashley's address on "The Impending Political Epoch." This address, which was delivered before the Ohio Society of New York last November will be discussed at the meeting of the New Century club next Friday evening. The meeting is with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Macomber, 1517 Monroe street, and Gov. Ashley will be present and lead the discussion.

The Catholic Club.

The Catholic club has an interesting program for its meeting Thursday evening. Among the musical numbers will be a solo by Prof. John B. Poulin, who will also sing in duet with Mrs. John P. Bartelle. Miss Ella Conlisk will also sing, and it is hoped Miss Porter, of Mount Vernon, will favor the club with a violin selection. Mr. John Murphy will read a paper on "The Necessity for Union Among Catholics," and other excellent literary features are promised.

The King's Daughters.

The quarterly union meeting of the Central Branch of King's Daughters will be held in the First Congregational church Friday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The officers of the Central Branch are: Mrs. W. W. Bolles, president; Mrs. S. F. Waldron, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Woolson, treasurer. Mrs. Thos. C. Daniels will preside at the meeting on Friday, and Rev. D. M. Fisk will address the meeting. Business of importance and general interest will be transacted.

The Ys Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Ys will be held in the parlor of the First Congregational church on Friday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock. The topic for discussion is: "The Kindergarten."

The Colloquial Club.

At the meeting of the Colloquial club, held in the Law kindergarten rooms next Friday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock, a paper will be read by Mrs. S. J. Foley on "Heroism in Women," which the members of the club and its guests will discuss.

Some Announcements.

Monthly meeting of the Union of Unions in Washington Street Congregational church, Thursday afternoon.

There will be a meeting of the Christian Alliance to-morrow evening at 411 South St. Clair street. All are welcome.

The fortnightly meeting of the Political Equality club will be with Mrs. Judge Bentley, Ontario street, Saturday afternoon. Parliamentary drill on "Dependent Motions."

There will be a meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the East Side Young Men's Christian association this evening, in their parlors in Weber's block. A good attendance is anticipated and desired.

Regular monthly meeting of the Toledo Suffrage association at room 9, Fort Industry block, to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. All women are cordially invited to attend.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Miss Catharine Weed Barnes, granddaughter of the late Thurlow Weed, has one of the finest amateur photographic studios in the country.

Gov. Boies has placed Hiram C. Wheeler, his late opponent in the gubernatorial race, at the head of Iowa's Russian relief committee.

Madame Tatento, wife of the Japanese minister in Washington, can talk English well enough to go shopping, and, like her American sisters, she greatly enjoys that pursuit.

Boulangism is at a serious discount in Paris, judging from the statement that there are already 130 of the dead general's bronze busts carefully laid away in the pawnshops.

Secretary Elkins has a large family to house in Washington. He has six children with him all the time, the eldest being a daughter by his first wife; but there also is a still older daughter, who is married, that makes long visits with her parents.

Secretary Rusk's daughter is said to be a model housekeeper. She arranges the menu every morning and does the marketing herself. Miss Blaine also "not only looks after the house but sees to the purchasing of supplies, often visiting the stores herself."

Tank Kee, a cultivated Chinaman who is lecturing throughout the United States on his native land, has donated a valuable library of 38,000 volumes to the University of Texas. Some of the books are old manuscripts, but the most of them are in English print. All are valuable.

The New York Recorder says that Father Thomas Sherman developed wonderful eloquence in his sermon on Sunday evening. "The audience was at times spellbound by his flights of eloquence and appeals to men and women to live aright.

Mrs. John Sherman has never had a photograph or any other picture taken since her husband first entered congress, and so fixed is her determination in the matter that when the cabinet members and their families of the Hayes administration presented their photographs to the president and his wife, Mrs. Sherman refused to break her rule.

BEAT OUT THEIR BRAINS.

Another Brutal Murder in Georgia.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Barrett Assaulted by Robbers—One Dead and the Other Dying.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 5.—Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Barrett, an aged couple, were found late Saturday in their home near Griffin, horribly mutilated. The woman was dead, the doctor so badly hurt that there is scarcely a possibility of his recovery.

Will Nunaky, a grandson, who lived with the Barretts, came home between 8 and 9 o'clock and was startled while several feet away by the sound of groans, which evidently issued from the house.

He entered and struck a light. Going into the sitting room he was appalled at the sight of his grandparents lying almost dead upon the floor.

Both had been brained with a coupling pin. The country is being scoured by men and bloodhounds in search of the murderer. There is no doubt that robbery was the motive.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Regular Meeting Held Last Night—The Business Considered.

The school board met in regular session last night, all members present except Mr. Broer.

The annual report of the schools has been printed and the members were presented with a copy.

Superintendent Compton submitted his monthly report for the month of December. The attendance for the month was as follows: High school, 437; grammar, 803; intermediate, 1,620; secondary, 3,059; primary, 6,090; ungraded, 266.

Truant Officer Disher presented a statement showing the accomplishments of his office for December. During the month he made 82 visits; 27 pupils were kept at home by parents; two incorrigibles were sent to Lancaster, and five truants were sent to school.

The following named teachers filed their resignations which were accepted: Emma Lang, Webster grammar school, Central building; Miss Emma Hall, third grade, Franklin school; Miss Ethel Bentley, third grade, Warren school; Miss Emma Myers principal Raymer school; Miss Grace Stanethorpe, first grade, Nebraska school.

A communication from the trustees of the Toledo Public Library was read, requesting that E. D. Potter, Jr., be recommended to the council for re-election as library trustee, which action was taken.

Superintendent Compton stated that it had been necessary to dismiss the sessions at the Lagrange, Warren and St. Clair schools, on account of the cold, the gas supply failing entirely. This announcement caused considerable discussion among the members. The buildings are on the city service. The chairman of the fuel committee stated that he had been down to the gas office several times and had been told regularly that the service would improve at once as new wells were about to be hooked on, but he said the pressure seemed to grow weaker every day. It was suggested that a supply of wood or coal be laid in.

The fuel committee was instructed to go down and see the gas manager once more, and to purchase wood or coal rather than dismiss school any more on account of the cold.

Superintendent of Buildings Conrad reported the plans and specifications of the new Sherman street school building ready for the contractor, and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids.

Truant Officer Disher was employed for another year at the same salary.

The salary of Adolph Fisher, who was transfered from a ward school to the Central building, was increased from $60 to $70 per month.

Treasurer Opitz made the following report of finances for the month:

Total receipts	$64,401.62
Orders paid since last year	43,637.32
Balance on hand	$20,764.30
Orders outstanding	3,597.01
Balance available	$17,167.01

A note for $17,000, reported due January 12, was ordered paid.

STRUCK THE RIGHT CHORD.

Mayor Grant Advises the Empire State to Wake Up.

New York, Jan. 5.—Mayor Grant, in his message, speaks of the Columbian exposition as follows:

"The Columbian exposition, or world's fair, to be held in Chicago next year, appeals to the patriotism and the business interests of the people of New York.

"Though we still regret the loss to this city of the world's fair we have a substantial interest in its success in the city selected to be its theater.

"The metropolis of the continent and the empire city of the union should be fully represented there.

"The merchants of New York have inaugurated a movement to accomplish this purpose, and feel sure that our citizens devoted to the arts and sciences, or concerned in the manufacturing interests will join therein."

JOHN B. CARSON.

A Man Well Known in Toledo Dies in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—John B. Carson, ex-president of the Chicago & Western Indiana belt line, and ex-president of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway, died at the Hotel Metropole yesterday after an illness of six weeks.

Blood trouble and consequent hemorrhages were the direct cause of his death.

A year ago he had a very severe attack of the grip, which told greatly on his physical condition. Mr. Carson was born 57 years ago at Jersey Shore, Lycoming county, Pa. His father was Major R. F. Carson, a member of Gov. Porter's staff. The elder Carson was a warm personal friend of old Simon Cameron, and the latter stopped at the Carson house on his wedding trip.

IN FINANCIAL TROUBLE.

Boston, Jan. 5.—The Brooks Bank Note company of this city is financially embarrassed, and an attachment has been placed upon the plant by the president, Frank W. Dexter.

The liabilities are estimated at about $50,000 and the assets about one-half. A meeting of the stockholders has been called for Jan. 5 at Exeter, N. H.

GREW WEARY OF THE JOB.

London, Jan. 5.—The American deputy consul general, Mr. George C. Hitt, has resigned his office and will shortly resume the business management of the Indianapolis Journal. Mr. Hitt and family sail for New York on Wednesday next.

MUCH BETTER.

Boston, Jan. 5.—Gen. S. Armstrong, of the Hampton Institute, Va., has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to leave for home in Hampton. He will travel in a private car furnished by C. P. Huntington.

THE GRIP IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 5.—There were 19 deaths from the grip in this city last week. The disease is now prevalent throughout Great Britain. Whole families are prostrated and there seems to be no prospect of a change for the better.

NAMED ITS CLERK.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Representative Blount of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs, has appointed Bartow S. Willingham, of Forsythe, Ga., clerk of the committee.

NEW SPINNING COMPANY.

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 5.—The Rotch Spinning company, a new corporation with a capital stock of between $450,000 and $500,000, will erect a new cotton hosiery yarn mill in this city in the spring.

ELECTRIC STRIKE.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 5.—All the motormen and conductors in the employ of the Birmingham Railway and Electric company have struck for 15 cents per hour instead of 12. Their demand has been refused by the company. No street cars are running.

MME SCHLIEMANN'S PLANS.

Mme. Schliemann, widow of the late Dr. Schliemann, the noted archaeologist, whose excavation of Troy, the city of which Homer sang, made him famous, will, it is said, continue the work her husband began and to which he devoted the closing years of his life. Mme. Schliemann is herself a Greek and a woman well posted in the ancient history of her native land, besides being an antiquarian of considerable skill and learning. She was personally with the doctor from 1871 to 1873, during the time he was making his excavations on the plateau of Hissarlik, which he then believed to cover the site of ancient Troy. When Dr. Schliemann died he left his collection of Trojan antiques to the German empire. The objects were contained in 58 large cases, all of which had been forwarded to Berlin, where they were to be arranged in the Schliemann collection in the royal museum.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

TREASURED MUSIC.

The Vatican's Jealousy Guarded Collection of Archives of the Chapelle Sistine.

One of the most jealously-guarded treasures at the Vatican is the collection of so-called archives of the Chapelle. Sistine These archives consist not of ordinary manuscript, but almost entirely of written music. They are the melodies, the chants and the oratorios specially composed for the use of the celebrated Sistine chapel choir by Palestrina and other famous maestros of bygone centuries. The anxiety on the part of the Vatican to prevent their ever being or performed anywhere else than within the walls of the Vatican or of these of the Basilica of St. Peter is demonstrated by the fact that excommunication is the penalty to be inflicted upon any one who dares to make an attempt to take down notes during the performance of one of these unique morceaux by the Sistine choir. In 1870, at the time of the capture of Rome, the entire collection was almost lost. It had been left behind in the palace of the Quirinal, walled in with a number of other important documents in a room on the ground floor.

A few days after King Victor Emmanuel had taken up his residence at the Quirinal, one of the noble guards of the Pope called upon Gen. La Marmora, the chief of the King's household, and asked permission to remove the papers in question. King Victor Emmanuel at once granted the desired permission, and men were placed at the disposal of the noble guard for the purpose of tearing down the walls and recovered the concealed papers. These pieces of music performed by the choir of the Chapelle Sistine are invariably sung without instrumental accompaniment the choir being magnificently conducted by old Mustapha, who, notwithstanding his advanced years, still retains his supurb soprano voice. Of course, the soprano voices of these grown, and, in some cases, heavily bearded men form a peculiar feature of the Chapelle incomparable and unique, and in this age of the commonplace and in which everything tends to become vulgarized, it is remarkable that the Vatican should have been able to retain the entire and exclusive monopoly, both of the music itself and of its methods of performance.

SHIPS OF THE ANCIENTS.

Large ships were not unknown to the ancients, and some of the most roomy of modern times. Nevertheless, they were unmanageable monstrosities, almost at the mercy of wind and wave, and utterly unfit to cope with the fury of a hurricane. Doubtless they were indebted to travellers' tales for the detailed descriptions that survive the lapse of ages. Constantius conveyed from Heliopolis to Rome an obelisk weighing 1,500 tons, and, in addition to this long-coveted monolith, the ship carried about 1,200 tons of pulse, stowed about the smaller end of the obelisk, in order to bring the ship on an even keel.

In 268 B. C. Archimedes devised a marvelous ship for Hiero of Syracuse. Her three lofty masts had been brought from Britain, whereas our ships' masts are of iron, or obtained from New Zealand or Vancouver' island. Luxuriously fitted sleeping apartments abounded, and one of her banqueting halls was paved with agate and costly Sicilian stone. Other floors were cunningly inlaid with scenes from the Iliad. Stables for many horses, ponds stocked with live fish, gardens watered by artificial rivulets, and hot baths, were provided for use or amusement. Ptolemy Philopater possessed a nuptial yacht, the Thalamegon, 312 feet long and 45 feet deep. A graceful gallery, supported by curiously-carved columns, ran round the vessel, and within were temples of Venus and Bacchus. Her masts were 100 feet high, her sails and cordage of royal purple hue.—Chambers' Journal.

MUST HAVE THEIR BATH.

An illustration of the change that has taken place in our methods of living is found in the alterations that are going on in one of the largest hotels in Boston. A few years ago an addition was made to this establishment and the larger part of the apartments in this addition were supplied with bath rooms and other attendant conveniences. It was then found that, although a somewhat higher price was asked for the rooms thus supplied, these apartments were almost all the time fully occupied by transient guests, largely traveling business men, while the rooms in the other part of the house, which had not these improvements, were often empty. It was therefore decided to make a change throughout the entire hotel, so that nearly all of the rooms could be supplied in this manner. The only conclusion that can be drawn from this is that the virtue of cleanliness has made wide extensions in the United States during the last ten or twenty years, and that there are now very many more people, particularly among those in business life, than there formerly were who look upon a bath in the morning as a necessary part of their daily toilet. This change is certainly a very gratifying one, though it is unfortunate that for the present it is apparently attended with some increase in the cost of living. —Boston Herald.

Special Master's Sale

United States of America, Northern District of Ohio.

The Central Trust Company of New York Complainant, v. The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company and others, Defendants. Consolidated Causes. In the Circuit courts of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, Western division, and for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, and for the Eastern district of Michigan, and for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division. In equity.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 5, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on July 1, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern district of Michigan, entered in the above entitled cause on June 29, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 30, 1891, and of an order of said circuit court of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio dated December 23rd, 1891, and of orders of said other circuit courts adopting the same, we, Benjamin F. Wade and Hiram F. Carleton, the Special Masters designated, by said decrees, will sell without appraisement, at public auction, to the highest bidder or bidders, in the United States court room, in the City of Toledo, County of Lucas, and State of Ohio, at three o'clock, p. m. on the 8th day of January, 1892, the property covered by and embraced in the consolidated mortgage of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company, dated December 1, 1886. Excluding the Central Division, (being the property described in the first mortgage of the Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad Company, dated April 14, 1881), together with the proportion of equipment, material and supplies appertaining to the same which, upon the reference ordered in said decrees, shall be decreed by the court to properly belong to the same, and to be covered by said Consolidated Mortgage. Said property (excluding the Central Division) will be sold as an entirety, without appraisement or redemption. No bid will be accepted therefor from any bidder for a sum less than $450,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by the Special Masters, place in their hands, or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the court, the sum of $25,000 in cash or Consolidated Mortgage Bonds to the amount of $250,000 of principal.

Of the price for which said property shall be sold, there shall be paid in cash, at the time of the sale, a sum equal to the amount of cash deposit hereinbefore required, and also, at the same time, and from time to time thereafter, such further portions of said purchase price as the court may direct; and the court reserves the right to reject any bid, and to take and to sell said premises and property, upon failure of any purchaser for twenty days to comply with any order of the court requiring payment. The balance of the purchase price not required to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good said balance of his bid, in whole or in part, by paying over the outstanding Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, and overdue coupons, or either, at such price or value as shall be equivalent to the amount that the holders thereof would be entitled to receive thereon, in case the entire purchase price were paid in cash. If any bid shall be accepted by the court, and the person making the same shall fail to comply with all the conditions of sale and all orders of the court with respect thereto, the sum deposited by the bidder shall be forfeited, and shall be applied as the court may direct.

Reference is hereby made to the said decrees for a more specific description of the mortgaged property therein ordered to be sold, and for further particulars of the terms and conditions of sale.

Cured after Twenty-four Years.

Greenville, Ohio, Jan. 17, 1890.

Dr. J. W. Bergen, Petersburg, Ind.:

Dear Sir—I have been afflicted with Asthma twenty-four years, and within the last year have not been able to work more than half the time and had almost given up all hope of ever getting any better. But thanks to Mr. Baker, a neighbor, who told me to write to Dr. S. B. Lewis, Evansville, Ind., and get your address, which I did—and the Asthma Cure—and have been taking it nine weeks, and have not had an attack since; have not lost a day's work; have gained ten pounds and feel as though the medicine has made a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

A. J. ROTHHASS.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

A gun is heard at the dead of night,
"Lifeboat ready!"
And every man to the signal true,
Fights for place in the eager crew;
"Now, lads, steady!"
First a glance at the shuddering foam,
Now a look at the loving home,
Then together with bated breath,
They launch their boat in the gulf of death,
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

They see the ship in a sudden flash,
Sinking ever;
And grip their oars with a deeper breath;
Now it's come to a fight with death,
Now or never!
Fifty strokes and they're at her side,
If they dive in the boiling tide,
If they last thro' the awful strife;
Ah, my lads, it's a race for life!
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

And loving hearts are on the shore,
Hoping, fearing, * * *
Till over the sea there comes a cheer,
Then the click of the oars you hear
Homeward steering.
Ne'er a thought of the danger past,
Now the lads are on land at last;
What's the storm to a gallant crew,
Who race for life and who win it, too?
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

The text of Pietro Mascagni's new opera, "L'Amico Fritz," was written by Nicola Daspuro, a clever young journalist and poet in Naples. The text is little more than a translation of "Friend Fritz," the work of Erckmann and Chatrian. Mascagni declined to accept these terms, and was on the point of abandoning the piece entirely when a compromise was reached.

WITH A WATCHFUL EYE

Democrats Will Scan Public Expenditures.

Methods of the Government Have Been Loose.

Congressman Sayers, of Texas, Introduces a Bill to Allow the House a Chance to Look Into Financial Affairs.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Congressman Sayers, of Texas, has introduced a bill in the house to repeal certain laws now on the statute books making permanent appropriations of the public revenue.

Under these permanent appropriations millions of dollars are expended every year by the various executive departments, not in conformity with the constant review and sanction of congress, as is the case with all other appropriations, but simply according to the knowledge or ignorance possessed by the government officials who apply the money according to the necessities of the objects to which it is applied.

Among the long list of objects of such permanent appropriations which the bill is designed to reduce to the same footing as ordinary appropriations are the customs service, supervisors of federal elections, army and mail transportation over the Pacific railroads, salaries of retired United States judges, the steamboat inspection service, the marine hospital service, the expense of regulating immigration, expenses of the shipping service, arming and equipping the militia of the various states and a large number of claims against the United States government.

Many of these objects of themselves are admittedly proper in every way, but Mr. Sayer's bill is directed, not at the objects, but at the principle involved, which has led to dangerous results, and, if not checked, will lead to more.

These appropriations, unlike all others, are not subjected year after year to the rigid scrutiny of congress, but they take care of themselves and cannot be molested without the concurrent agreement of both houses of congress and the executive. Last year the sum of permanent appropriations outside of the reach of congress was $147,000,000.

Mr. Sayers, speaking to-day of the circumstance which led him to prepare the bill and to faver its enactment, said:

"Some of the permanent appropriations, which it is proposed by my bill to repeal, were made as long ago as the close of the last century, and they have run along uninterruptedly, without change or alteration, until now."

"Outside the particular clerks in the treasury who keep these accounts and the immediate beneficiaries of them, probably ont half a dozen men in the entire country dream of the existence of any such authorized drafts upon the public treasury.

"My bill proposes to repeal, after the fiscal year of 1893, about 121 different appropriations heretofore known as permanent, specific and definite, together with a large number of special items for which congress has from time to time made specific provisions that have been construed to be permanent and continuous.

"Many of these appropriations are now obsolete, as I said, or inoperative, besides the original appropriations have been exhausted or the balances have been, under rulings of the department, covered into the surplus fund, or because the purposes for which they were made have ceased to exist.

"Expenditures, in fact, are reported to have been made during the fiscal years 1888 and 1889, under less than one-half of the whole number that the bill will repeal, and in the aggregate for a little more than $12,500,000 for each of those years.

"In addition to these expenditures, however, the bill will repeal two permanent appropriations made by the last congress, namely, for the payment of the bounty on sugar under which the expenditures, actual and estimated, for 1892, are reported at $9,000,000, and the national bank note redemption account, under which the expenditures for 1892 are estimated at $16,000,000.

"The real effect of the bill is not to repeal any law for which a permanent appropriation is made, but rather to transform the character of such appropriations from permanent and indefinite to annual and specific ones, that will require in their making the careful scrutiny and review of congress each year.

"To this end section 3 of the bill requires that annual estimates shall be submitted for the fiscal year 1894, and annually thereafter, upon which congress may base appropriations for all objects for which the permanent ones are repealed by the bill."

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

The Boyd-Thayer Decision Not Yet Rendered.

A General Belief, However, That It Will Be in Favor of the Former —General Court News.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The Boyd-Thayer case, involving the question of the citizenship of Boyd, and as a consequence his eligibility to the office of governor of Nebraska, to which he was elected, was not decided by the United States supreme court yesterday.

An inquiry into the matter develops the fact that only eight justices sat in the hearing of the case, Justice Bradley being absent on account of illness. A premature announcement that the court had decided the case in favor of Boyd by a vote of six to three cannot be correct therefore, so far as respects the majority by which a decision is alleged to have been reached, but it is believed to be correct in result.

The court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the suit brought by the Pacific Express company against James M. Seibert and John M. Wood, auditor and attorney general respectively of the state of Missouri. By this suit the express company sought to restrain and enjoin the collection of a tax of $2 on each $100 of receipts levied by an act of the state legislature against express companies doing business within the state.

That the United States supreme court is tenacious of its dignity both parties to one of many drummers' taxes cases from Tennessee have discovered. Two terms ago the case of Charles L. Flicklin v. the taxing district of Shelby county, Tenn., was submitted under the rules on printed briefs. The court made an order subsequently setting aside that submission and ordering oral argument before a full bench.

The case is one involving the legality of a drummer's, or more technically, an agent's tax, for the purpose of doing business within the state, Flicklin having been the representative of a firm outside the state.

Some fine questions of constitutional law and the extent to which a taxing act may go without coming into interference with interstate commerce were necessary to a judicial decision, and the court having previously divided on somewhat similar questions was desirous of obtaining oral as well as printed argument.

When the day set for the hearing arrived, counsel on either side failed to appear.

The court thereupon very promptly dismissed the suit for want of prosecution in the manner directed by the court. This rather astonished the attorneys, and Flicklin's counsel soon afterwards came into court, begged its pardon, said no contempt of or discourtesy to the court were intended and that they were unaware the court intended its order as a mandate. The court was then asked to reinstate the case on the docket. Chief Justice Fuller announced that the court had decided to grant the request and had set the case down for argument January 25, after previously assigned cases.

He Shrinks from Washing

So do woolens and flannels, if they're not washed properly. Try the right way. Get a package of Pearline, and do as directed. Your things won't shrink, and they'll be softer, brighter, and better, than ever before. That's the beauty of Pearline—washing is not only easier, but better and safer. Things that you wouldn't dare to trust to the wear and tear of the washboard are washed perfectly with Pearline. You save work, wear, time and money with it, but you can't do any harm.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 313 JAMES PYLE, New York.

THE KEYSTONE BANK.

The Affairs to be Aired in the Courts.

John Bardsley's Assignee Sues the Concern for One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Edward W. Magill, assignee of John Bardsley, has entered suit in common pleas court, No. 4, against the Keystone National bank to recover $100,000.

Mr. Magill says that on November 25, 1890, the bank received from John Bardsley, as a loan for the use of the bank, 100 bonds of the Baltimore Traction company, valued at $1,000 each, the bank promising at the same time, in consideration of the loan, to either return the bonds or give face value for the same, and that on November 25, G. W. Marsh gave Bardsley a receipt for the bonds.

Mr. Magill says, however, that the bank sold the bonds and appropriated the proceeds to its own use, and have neglected and refused to return the bonds or the money equivalent to Bardsley or Mr. Magill, as assignee.

TO GO DOWN FIGHTING.

The Salvation Army in the Battle to Win.

Parliament Dare Not Turn Them Down.

Thousands Have Already Gone to Jail for Continuing to Preach the Gospel of Christ in the Streets.

London, Jan. 5.—There is no doubt that the Salvationists will obtain fair hearing in parliament, for they are becoming a body so important that the government would not dare deliberately ignore their appeal.

The Salvationists all over the country are joining issue with their brethren of Eastbourne upon this point, and the Salvationists of Middlewick have gone so far as to petition the home secretary, the Rt. Hon. Henry Matthews, in behalf of the Eastbourne "soldiers."

Replying to this petition, the home secretary said that the Salvationists of Eastbourne, by holding their processions on Sunday with music, have deliberately defied the law, as laid down by act of parliament, and that the chief responsibility for the scenes which have occurred and which brought discredit on Eastbourne rested with the Salvation Army.

Mr. Matthews added, on the other hand, that if the Salvationists broke the law, it should be enforced in the proper way by the authorities and not by mob violences, which ought to be suppressed and punished with as much energy as breaches of the Eastbourne act.

Mr. Bramwell Booth, referring to the Eastbourne riots, said the Salvationists would rather obey the law of God than the law of man where the two clashed. The scenes enacted at Eastbourne—scenes of disorder and brutality—had been a disgrace to the Christianity of the town. If they disobeyed the law they were prepared to suffer for it, and 1,000 Salvationists had already gone to jail to preserve inviolate the right to preach Christ in the highways of the land, and they were prepared with 1,000 more if necessary.

But he asked that they should not be handed over to the howling mob, primed by the publican with drink, much, he added, in the same way as the early Christians in Rome were handed over to the howling lions in the arena.

The correspondent at Eastbourne describes in the following manner, an "engagement" between the salvationists and the local authorities of that place:

"The tri-terraced parade was simply thronged. Large numbers also congregated on the beach, the latter forming the more active section of the opposition. Little bands of salvationists gathered at their appointed positions at an hour previously agreed upon, and at once commenced their customary services.

"They had no sooner done so than the police interfered and drove them in all directions. Both male and female members of the army repeatedly returned, although hustled by the constabulary in a very unceremonious manner, they sang snatches of their favorite hymns while individual members haranged the spectators.

"The latter jeered at the salvationists and loudly cheered the police. Subsequently the members of the army gravitated to a spot opposite the center of the parade and then followed a series of lively scrimmages. During the more violent rushes many persons were knocked down or struck. The salvation lasses were not apparently terrorized by the action of the crowd and of the police.

"They continued with enthusiasm, to rattle their tamborines and sing hymns. Several, however, complained of brutal ill-usage; although, generally speaking, when the young women were struck, it was in the unavoidable crowding that occurred.

"After patroling the foreshore in very broken order for about a quarter of an hour, the salvationists ascended the slipway to the brick parade, and there the tumult and hustling was for a time of an alarming character. Several times the members of the army narrowly escaped being forced over the seawall, and the police found the greatest difficulty in making a way for their advance.

"Every minute or two there was an ugly rush on the part of the crowd, and not a few lost their feet and were trampled upon. Reaching to the main thoroughfare, near the pier the huge struggling mass of salvationists and active oppositionists, thickly studded with police officers, rushed forward to Queen's garden, where the former were hotly attacked.

"The mounted constabulary charged the people but only increased the turmoil, and several severe tussles ensued between the rival forces, rough treatment being meted out on both sides.

"The staff bearer, a man named Elms, hatless and minus his banner, had to fly from the menacing crowd, and two or three of his companions ran into doors of private houses. At a slow pace the surging crowd moved forward, and the citade being finally reached, the police formed up in double extended line and allowed the salvationists to pass into their meeting place, which they entered amid loud groaning and hooting."

Garfield Tea is peculiarly adapted to persons of sedentary habits, as its action is mild, not drostic or constipating, leaving no after ill-effects.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A Pair of Jacks Greeted by a Crowded House.

Some Points on the Gowns of Miss Paget—Two Nights with Stewart and the Fat Men's Club.

H. Grattan Donnelly's funny farce, "A Pair of Jacks," opened at the People's theater last evening with a crowded house. As a whole the company presenting it is not as good as that seen here last season, but there are many good people in the cast, and the piece is as jolly and funny as ever. Louis Wesley as Judge Jack, and Edward See as Doctor Jack, were very clever and were received with much enthusiasm.

Th singing of Charles B. Winans was highly enjoyed, as he has a splendid voice together with a most pleasing stage presence. His songs made a decided hit.

The work of Miss Dudie Tracy as Zetta and of Miss Dell as Glorioso Smart was especially good and the other parts were well filled. "A Pair of Jacks" will probably play to a big week's business.

Miss Paget.

Miss Ffolliott Paget, who plays the Russian Baroness Vera in "The Last Word" Wednesday evening, has been fortunate in securing original designs for gowns from well-known artists in London and Paris. Being fully equipped in the matter of accessories, wardrobe, etc., Miss Paget should not have much difficulty in heightening the fascinations of the Baroness by infusing into the character something of her own charming personality.

Stewart, the Fat Comedian.

The "Fat Men's Club," which will be presented at Wheeler's Thursday and Friday, is an excellent farce comedy as well as a novelty. An exchange says of it:

"From the first rising of the curtain the audience was in perfect accord with the actors and the laughter and applause exceeded anything ever heard here—it was a perfect ovation. As each succeeding act was presented the hilarity increased and when the performance concluded with an old-fashioned epilogue from Mr. Stewart the applause was unstinted and given with that good feeling of an audience that had received full value."

EXTENDING MANUAL TRAINING.

Saturday Sewing Classes To Be Opened in the Ward Schools.

Next Saturday there will be opened in the Franklin, Nebraska and Broadway schools classes in plain sewing, intended for the girls in the intermediate grades. Many of these pupils do not reach the Manual Training school, but these classes will give them the benefit of the course in sewing, except somewhat modified. If the plan works it will be extended to other ward schools in the city. This work is under the direction of the Manual Training school and will be under the immediate supervision of Miss Mabel Wilson, who will probably have two of the classes, and another young lady will be employed as assistant. Miss Wilson also has the Monday night classes in cooking at the Manual Training school.

THE WAY TO GO.

You have seen California frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines. Perhaps a friend has been there and writes enthusiastic letters back home about the climate and the fruits. It makes you anxious to see the country for yourself.

The time to go is in the fall and winter. Then work here is least pressing and California climate is most pleasing. The way to go is via Santa Fe route, on one of that line's popular, personally-conducted parties, leaving Chicago every Saturday evening and leaving Kansas City every Sunday morning.

Special agents and porters in attendance. Pullman tourist sleepers are used, furnished with bedding, mattresses, toilet articles, etc. Second-class tickets honored. Write to Geo. E. Gilman, Michigan Passenger Agent Santa Fe route, for folder describing these excursions.

TOWN SITE DECISION.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Secretary Noble has rendered a decision in the case of the town site of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, against W. D. Fassett. The case involves title to a quarter section of land in the Kingfisher land district embraced in homestead entry No. 5, made by Fassett April 23, 1889. The decision in effect affirms Fassett's title to all of the quarter section, he, however, to pay $1 an acre for the 40 acres occupied by town site settlers under section 22, act of May 2, 1889. The costs of contest are to be apportioned among the parties interested.

SILVER PURCHASED.

Washington, June 5.—The amount of silver offered the treasury department yesterday aggregated 2,025,000 ounces, and the amount purchased was 564,000 ounces, as follows: 64,000 ounces at $0.95; 100,000 ounces at .9518; 200,000 ounces at .9520; 100,000 ounces at .9523; 100,000 ounces at .9524.

BANQUET TO CAMPBELL.

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—The business men of Columbus, principally members of the Columbus club, the social organization of the city, gave a complimentary banquet to Gov. Campbell last night. Governor-elect McKinley was expected, but was detained, and George K. Nash, of Columbus, responded in his place. Gov. Campbell, in his speech of acknowledgment, was highly complimentary to the incoming governor.

TURNED INTO AN OILER.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The corporation gas well at Bloomdale, with a capacity of 8,000,000 feet, has developed into an oiler. The oil poured into the furnace of the Dewey stave factory so rapidly that it was necessary to shut it off, as it endangered the works. When the well was drilled in there was not a trace of oil, so the transformation was unexpected.

SAVED BY ONE.

Councilmen Fail to Pass the Railway Ordinance.

Resolution to Issue Bonds for Harbor Dredging—The Garbage Question—Illuminating Gas.

The meeting of the board of councilmen last evening was a very quiet one, compared with some recent sessions, yet considerable important legislation was acted upon. All members were present except Messrs. Gill, Tanner and Schmuhl. The latter gentleman came in later, but not in time to vote on the street railway ordinance.

The only new business was three resolutions for new sidewalks, and as there had been no committee meetings for two weeks there was no legislation from this source.

The general street railway ordinance came up on a motion to pass over the mayor's veto, but it failed to go through, lacking one of the necessary two-thirds vote. The ballot was as follows: Ayes, Albrecht, Coleman, Doner, Lee, Morgan, Morris, Rutherford, Swain, Taylor, Walker, Hassenzahl, 11; noes, Bay, Caldwell, Nuendorf, Pheatt, 4.

Mr. Pheatt introduced a resolution that is of great importance to the marine interests of the city and to the city in general. The resolution is that the members of the general assembly be requested to enact the proper legislation to enable the city of Toledo to dredge a channel in the Maumee river, and to issue bonds to pay the cost and expense thereof, in an amount not to exceed $20,000. Further, it instructed the city clerk to transmit a copy of the resolution to the members of the senate and house of representatives for this district.

Mr. Pheatt asked that this be passed by the board, and told something of the necessity for a better harbor.

Mr. Neuendorf opposed it and wanted the cost of the improvement assessed on the property along the river, but Solicitor Read said that this can not be done legally.

Mr. Neuendorf moved to refer the resolution to the committee on ways and means, but this motion was lost and the resolution was passed.

The resolution to advertise for proposals for the collection of garbage came up from the board of aldermen, which board had decreed to advertise for one year, with an option of making it two. This brought out some discussion, and finally, on motion of Mr. Morganthaler, the resolution was amended to advertise for two, three and five years, these being the terms of the original resolution introduced some time ago.

This resolution to advertise for proposals for collecting garbage has been going from one board to another like a foot ball for several months, and seems no nearer an issue than at first.

The ordinance fixing the price of illuminating gas at $1.10 per 1,000 cubic feet, or $1.25 when not paid by the 10th of the month, came up on its second reading and passed by a vote of 11 to 5.

Business from the board of aldermen was passed.

"I have been occasionally troubled with coughs, and in each case have used Brown's Bronchial Troches, which have never failed, and I must say they are second to none in the world."—Felix A. May, Cashier, St. Paul, Minn.

CRYING FOR GAS.

Consumers Are Not Getting the Necessary Supply.

City Solicitor Read Gives an Important Opinion—Meeting of the Gas Trustees Last Evening.

Asked for his opinion regarding the law on the matter of free gas for charitable institutions, City Solicitor Read, in a communication to the board of gas trustees last evening, laid it down that the board could furnish gas to charitable institutions controlled by the city, but could not charge for the same. It appears that the board may if it will give free gas to other charitable institutions not under control of the municipality.

Prior to the opening of the meeting the members examined the Noteman-Fisk gas burner and were well pleased with the exhibit. The application of the burner to a small blue flame not only increases the flame to treble its former proportions, but the heating capacity seemed to increase in like proportion. At the opening of the session the matter was presented to the board by Mr. Sam T. Fisk, who stated briefly the aim of the burner. The results, he said, were even much greater than anticipated. He said the burner increased the heating capacity of the gas in a ratio of 3 to 5.

Mr. Webster gave the scientific points of the invention. It increased the heat units fully 100 per cent.

Mr. Parsons said the board could take no action, as the department supplied gas, but not burners. It was undoubtedly a good thing if it increased the heating capacity of gas as stated.

It was decided to make a test and that the manager and superintendent investigate and report with the authority to issue a certificate to the gentlemen interested of the result attained. Mr. Backus voting no, as he was opposed to endorsing any patent.

A delegation of citizens called to say that gas paid for had not been supplied. Mr. Parsons referred them to the Fisk burner.

Patrick Owens, livery keeper, complained that certain inspectors connected with the department had abused a horse of his so that it had died in consequence. Referred to the manager.

Chas. Coventry, 444 Hamilton street, desired to know if he was going to get gas or would he have his money refunded so that he could buy coal. He said he had been told to take off his mixer and buy coal.

Mr. Greene remarked it was little enough that patrons should receive civil answers from employes. No one had authority to tell him to take off his mixer. Referred to the superintendent.

Several others made similar applications for information and were similarly referred. S. S. Walker said that notwithstanding that his mixer had been bored out he had no gas or practically none. Another gentleman said it was strange that if two 2,000,000 feet wells "came in" Saturday that the gas was lower than ever.

Mr. Backus suggested that the public schools be shut off.

A gentleman said that on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, when the schools were not using gas, the supply was no better.

The committee on claims presented a schedule of bills amounting to $3,020, which was ordered paid.

The same committee recommended that the final estimate of the Kerlin contract, $10,450, be approved and certificates issued for payment of same, adopted.

A bill for $1,355 for well supplies was also approved and ordered paid when there was money to pay it.

The final estimate of Parks, Foster & Co., $315, was approved and ordered paid.

The final account of Wm. McMahon, amounting to $5,459, was referred back for a full statement of account.

It was decided to refund to McConnell & Co. $190, money advanced to build line, and which firm failed to secure gas after the line was laid.

Mr. Greene, from the committee on territory, recommended that the Loeb gas well be leased at $150 a month for three months and $100 a month thereafter, adopted.

Manager Heston made a report on the five wells that are being drilled in and also a report on the flowing pressure of the two wells which were connected with the main line Saturday. The flowing pressure is about three pounds.

The matter of giving free gas to the Young Woman's Christian association and the Day Nursery was again taken up, but for lack of a second to Dr. Jones' motion to give free gas as asked, the matter was dropped.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Dec. 21, 1891.

The committee on ways and means of the Common Council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to

MONDAY, JANUARY 25TH, 1892,

at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds, to the amount of Eleven Thousand Six Hundred ($11,600) Dollars, bearing date Dec. 29, 1891, and payable as follows: One Thousand One Hundred and Sixty ($1,160) Dollars on the 29th day of June, 1893, and Eleven Hundred and Sixty Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including December 29, 1897, at the office of the city treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of Improvement Bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Robinwood avenue, from Monroe street to Bancroft street."—Passed Dec. 7th, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds; two of $580 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Dec. 21, 1891.

The committee on ways and means of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to

MONDAY, JANUARY 25TH, 1892,

at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds, to the amounts of Sixteen Thousand Six Hundred and Seventeen 07-100 ($16,617 07-100) Dollars, bearing date Dec. 27, 1891, and payable as follows: One Thousand Three Hundred and Seventeen 07-100 ($1,317 07-100) Dollars on the 27th day of June, 1893, and One Thousand Seven Hundred ($1,700) Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including December 27th, 1897. At the office of the city treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of Improvement Bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Erie street, from Bush street to Oak street."—Passed Dec. 7th, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds; first payment one of $717.07 and one of $600; each payment thereafter two of $600 and one of $500.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

MONEY FOR GARZA.

He Is Plentifully Supplied by the Clericals,

Who Hope to Overthrow President Diaz.

Pablo Munez's Papers Prove of Great Value.

The Grievances Date Back Many Years.

The Mexican Administration Desirous of Keeping the True State of Affairs From the Public, Fearing a General Uprising.

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 5.—Startling developments regarding the Garza revolution were learned last night.

The papers found in the saddle bags of Pablo Munez, one of the captured revolutionists, throws a great deal of light on the situation.

It proves conclusively that the clerical party is furnishing the money with which the campaign is being conducted.

It has long been a source of wonder where Garza secured the money which he has been spending freely. It is now ascertained that Monts De Oca, bishop of Monterey, is the financial agent of the clerical party in furnishing the sinews of war.

The grievances of the clericals date back several years and arise from the interferences of the government with some of their functions. The Iturbide family is also believed to be in the plot and it is known that Prince Iturbide is now an avowed candidate for the presidency against Diaz.

The real tocsin of war will soon be sounded. The clerical party is strong and rich, and Diaz's persecutions of the priests makes them bitter.

The Mexican administration desires to suppress every mention of the revolution and pretends to believe there is no trouble brewing, but their actions and preparations are at varaiance.

The government realizes the inevitable and is actively at work. As a result of the trouble even Mexican silver has fallen in price considerably.

TO CONCEAL A CRIME,

A Woman and Child Are Murdered.

The Town of Williamsburg, Ohio, Greatly Excited Over a Very Sensational Story.

Williamsburg, O., Jan. 5.—This place is in a state of much excitement.

A month ago several stores in this place were robbbed, the total amount reaching quite a large sum. There were suspicions, but no clue until a few days ago, when some information was furnished by a 4-year-old girl.

The child, Minnie Hurliss, was playing at a neighbor's and told of a lot of stuff hidden and said enough to implicate George Snider and Wells Fryman. The child's words became town talk.

Thursday night the little girl was found dead, shot in the head. It was given out that she had been shot by accident, and as there was a good deal of shooting about the town, that being a custom of celebrating the event of the new year, the story was accepted without question.

Monday morning Fryman and Snider, who live several miles in the country, came to town. They got into a quarrel with a neighbor, who accused them of stealing some of his chickens. The altercation became so heated that the accuser requested the town marshal to arrest the men for threatening his life.

At the police station some articles were found on the men which seemed to implicate them in the robberies, and they confessed that they were the robbers. The police went to the house of a Mrs. Davis, one of the persons named by the little Hurliss girl. Entering the place, they were shocked to find the woman, who lived alone, dead.

Rats had gnawed the flesh off her face and hands, and up to this hour the manner of her death has not been determined. In the house was found a lot of the stolen plunder.

Acting on the clue thus obtained, the officers went direct to the Hurliss house and found more of the stolen goods. At once the police decided that the little girl was murdered to close her mouth. Both the arrested men deny any connection with either death, but the populace became excited it became necessary to take the men to Batavia for safe keeping.

All parties implicated have heretofore stood high in the community, except the two boys, who belong to line families but have been wild the past two or three years.

DOINGS IN FINDLAY.

The New Railroad Securing Its Right of Way.

The Standard to Have a New Storage Depot—Burglars at Work—Miscellaneous Mention.

Findlay, O., Jan. 5.—(Special)—The Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western road has finally secured the long-disputed right-of-way through the old fair grounds, and also through the property of Hon. A. P. Begal. This will let the company through across the southern part of the city to a connection with the T., C. & C., something they have wanted for some time past. This will give the new road a much better chance to secure business. A temporary freight and passenger station will be established on South Main street, connecting there with the electric cars. The new company now intend to push the building of the line west to Ft. Wayne and east to Greenwich, Huron county, where a connection is made with the Big Four. The present management of the company are moving along in a business-like manner and on a strictly cash basis.

Boarder Robbed.

A man by the name of Jacob B. Huber and a boarder at Brusers' Broadway house, on Mechanics street, reported to the police yesterday that some one entered the room and stole $32 in cash out of his pants. Two young men, Ray Hinton and Ed Hatfield, have been arrested on suspicion and will have a hearing before Mayor Muhan to-day. Young Hinton had about $23 in money, but claims it is his own wages. The other man has figured in police court before and was warned to leave the city.

Another Divorce.

Emma J. Holmes wants a legal separation from her husband, William W. Holmes, to whom she was married February 8, 1888, in Hardin county. Three years willful absence is the cause.

Storage Depot.

The Standard Oil company have purchased the buildings of the Aluminum Product company on Factory avenue. The buildings will be remodeled and enlarged to meet the wants of the company who have decided to make Findlay one of the principal supply depots for their required products.

SPECIAL—

The genuine Xavier Jouvin Gloves agency in New York has changed hands, and as there was a surplus stock we were able to make A LARGE PURCHASE of this famous Glove, at much less than the regular price. They will all be put in our great clearing sale.

TERRIBLE ASSAULT.

A Chicago Girl Who May Die From Her Injuries.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—With her life in the balance, her face bruised and battered almost beyond recognition and her breast and shoulders covered with black marks of brutal heels, beautiful little Louise Hagen lies at her home on Washington boulevard the victim of a most daring and dastardly outrage.

While returning to her home about dusk Sunday along Laflin street she was attacked by a man who struck her a terrible blow on the back of her head with a monkey wrench.

He then dragged her into an alley and outraged her. Alarmed by the footsteps of a passer-by, the brute fled. The bleeding and half-conscious girl was taken to her home, where physicians pronounced her condition as critical. The police are working on the case.

AFTER COLONEL BALLOU.

The Providence Lawyer Appears to be Wanted.

A General Belief That He Will Be Arrested for Complicity in the Barnaby Case.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—If Col. D. R. Ballou, of Providence, R. I., who defended Dr. Graves in the great Denver poisoning case, was arrested on his arrival in this city, the thing was done so quietly that no city policeman or newspaper reporter was able to verify it.

Col. Ballou was expected to arrive here this morning over the Rock Island road, on his way back to his home in Providence, and it was reported that he would be arrested on alighting from the train. It is impossible to find him, however, whether he was arrested and spirited away to some "private detective" office, or allowed to go on his journey.

"We do not know anything about the arrest of Col. Ballou here," said Desk Sergeant Wood at the city hall, in answer to an inquiry from a reporter. "One of detective agencies has the matter in hand, I expect. If they have made the arrest there is no reason why they should not talk with Col. Ballou and hear what he has to say in his own defense."

"Has any one been detailed from the city force to make the arrest?"

"Nobody. I would tell you in a moment if there had been. We are not handling it."

Visits to the headquarters of the private detective agencies were unproductive of information upon the subject. If Col. Ballou has been landed in a sweat box the managers of the institution will not reveal the fact at present.

THE BOOKS DISAPPEARED.

Another "Mutua l Benefit" in Trouble.

Nearly Half a Million Taken in and Only One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Paid Out.

Greenville, Pa., Jan. 5.—S. B. Griffith, of Mercer, who, as receiver of the Economical Mutual Benefit association, of Sandy Lake, has ascertained that during the past eight years the company has taken in about $450,000 and only paid out, as far as can be discovered, $150,000. He says that the books have disappeared.

Mr. Griffith recently made application to the United States district court, of Pittsburg, for a mandamus on the postmaster at Sandy Lake to compel him to give up the mail addressed to the company, which has been piling up there for some months, and which was held under an order of the postmaster general.

The order was made in consequence of the Sandy Lake company using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

A large amount of money was in this way prevented from going into the hands of the company, which Mr. Griffith wishes to secure.

The victims of the swindle are anxious that the directors be prosecuted, and emphatically demand a full exposure of this case.

DON'T YOU MISS IT.

WAR ON THE LOTTERIES,

A Strong Bill in the Kentucky Legislature.

Selling of Tickets is Made a Crime Punishable by Heavy Fine and Imprisonment.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5.—Senator Goebel fired off the first gun for the suppression of lotteries in Kentucky by introducing a bill in the senate which makes it a felony, punishable by a fine of $1,000 to $5,000 and imprisonment from two to five years for any one to promote, carry on or conduct a lottery, or to aid in carrying on such lottery, for any one renting, procuring or leasing premises for lottery purposes, or for selling or offering for sale tickets for any person to buy, procure or purchase for himself a ticket for said lottery or drawing, bunishable by a fine.

BUT IT DOES, NEVERTHELESS.

London, Jan. 5.—The Mexican legation announces that it is authorized to deny the statements published to the effect that Mexico is in a state of rebellion or that a rebellion exists against the power of President Diaz.

Nothing can be said in favor of the best medicine in the world that may not be said of the most worthless. In one case, it's true; in the other, it isn't;—but how can you distinguish?

Judge by what is done. There's only one blood-purifier that's guaranteed. It's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and this is what is done with it; if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you get your money back. Isn't it likely to be the best?

All the year round, as well at one time as another, it cleanses and purifies the system. All blood-poisons must go. For Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, or any blood-taint or disorder, it is an unequaled remedy.

It's the cheapest, too. With this, you pay only for the good you get.

And nothing else is "just as good." It may be better—for the dealer. But he isn't the one that's to be helped.

"Value received, or no pay,"—you can't get these terms with any other medicines, at any price.

Notice to Contractors.

Street Grading.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 11TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1892,

for improving Dawson street from the center of Fassett street to the north line of the D. & M. Railway Company's right-of-way by grading the same its full width to the established grade and providing the necessary drainage, culverts, etc.

Also for improving Maumee Avenue from Broadway to Prouty Avenue by grading the sidewalk beds on each side of said avenue to the established grade and providing the necessary drainage, etc.

Also for improving Sixteenth street from the northeast gutter line of Monroe street to the southwest gutter line of Jefferson street by grading the same its full width to the established grade and providing the necessary drainage, culverts, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for that part of the improvement lying in the street intersections in cash within ninety days after the acceptance of the work, and the remainder of the cost will be paid in an assessment levied upon the abutting property in two installments, in ten days after the passage of the assessing ordinance, and the remainder in one year thereafter, excepting the improvement of Maumee avenue, which is payable within ten days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matter specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of one hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

The appended special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune is interesting as showing what a single gifted scamp can accomplish when he turns his attention to the life insurance business on the assessment plan. It is only through the inherent folly of the co-operative idea, and the widespread belief that imitation insurance is as good as the standard article, that fellows like Unverzagt are able to cut such a swath.

The dispatch says:

New York, Dec. 30.—Charles H. Unverzagt, the alleged banker, who was arrested by order of the state banking department for not complying with the laws, is an old offender. District attorney Nicoll received a batch of papers to-day showing some of the doings of the man. Among the papers sent to the district attorney's office is the following:

A few of the fraternal orders, so-called, that C. H. Unverzagt has been and is still connected with are the Union Trust Fund Life of Chicago, defunct; an insurance company at Anamosa, Ia., defunct; another at Hiawatha, Ks., defunct; the Globe Reserve Mutual Life Insurance company of Grand Rapids, Ia., defunct; the Maryland Life Association of Harmony, Md., defunct; the Mutual Reserve Tontine Association, defunct; the Oriental Life Association of Baltimore, defunct; the Great Eastern Life Insurance company, defunct; the Globe Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company of Baltimore, winding up; the International Savings and Loan Society of New York, defunct; the People's Mutual Live Stock Society of Chicago; the A. P. L. of Boston, and the Globe Fraternal Legion of Baltimore.

The International Alliance of Baltimore and the Security Mutual bank, No. 8 Union Square, New York (capital stock $27,500,000), and which under his able management promises to depositors about 25 per cent. per annum, are his latest.

EAST SIDE WEDDING,

And Toledo Loses One of Its Public School Teachers.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Third Street M. E. church occurred the wedding of Miss Emma Myers, late principal of the Raymer school, and George W. Chapman, of Seattle, Wash. The bride has been a teacher in our public schools for a number of years, and has a host of friends in Toledo, who will regret that a bridegroom from the far west carries her away to a distant home. Their good will is shown in the numerous and costly wedding gifts the bride has received. The groom is a business man of Seattle, one of the chief stockholders in the Washington Furniture company. After this month Mr. and Mrs. Chapman will be at home to their friends in Seattle.

Miss Olive Donaldson takes Miss Myers' place as principal of Raymer school.

HOW MANY CATS?

"If 300 cats can kill 300 hundred rats in 300 days, how many cats will it take to kill 100 rats in 100 days?" A fine toned upright piano will be given by The Queen to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant gold watch for the second correct answer; a China dinner set for the third correct answer; an elegant silk dress pattern for the fourth correct answer, and many other valuable prizes, all of which will be announced in the next issue of The Queen. Valuable special prizes will be given for the first correct answers received from each state. As the object of offering these prizes is to attract attention to our popular family magazine in the United States, each person answering must enclose six U. S. two-cent stamps for sample number containing full particulars. By sending to-day you may secure a handsome prize. $10 in gold will be paid for the best original problem to be published in a future number. Address The Canadian Queen, "C" Toronto, Canada.

THE URSULINE CONVENT.

The Story of an Order of Local Interest.

A Bee Sees the Bones St. Ursula Worked Into Dados and Pillars in a Little German Church.

In view of the fact that Toledo is one of the few cities in the country in which is located a branch of the monastic order, the Ursuline Sisters, a sketch of the organization and subsequent movements of the order will doubtless prove interesting. The name, in all probability, comes from St. Ursula, a virgin, who lived along between the years 250 and 500 A. D., authorities vary on this point, and who was betrothed to a Pagan prince. She did not fancy such a marriage so she fled from Britain to the Rhine, accompanied by 11,000 virgins. Their journey ended at Cologne, where they were slaughtered by the Huns, to whom they refused to become wives. Their remains were buried beneath the site of St. Ursula, in the city where they met their fate. The interior of the church was decorated with their bones and these ghastly relics were seen by a Bee only last year while on a trip across the water. Rather a curious ornamentation. Ribs, arms and skulls are worked into the pillars and walls in various designs and among these horrible mementoes of the past a congregation worships to-day in Cologne.

The order was founded at Brescia in 1533 by Angela Merici. It was at first a voluntary association of widows and young girls who undertook the gratuitous education of girls, devoting their spare time to visiting the sick and relieving the poor. The members were allowed to live at home, submitting only to such regulations as the nature of their work and other circumstances required.

As their numbers increased they formed distinct congregations. In 1541 they assumed for their common dress that worn by widows of the middle class. Approved in 1544 by Pope Paul III, their establishments became numerous in northern Italy. They began to live together in common and to elect local superiors, but without binding vows. In 1572 Pope Gregory XIII erected the congregation of St. Ursula into a religious order.

Several of the congregations declined to become members of the new order, so that with the consent of the church they retained their first organization unchanged. Thus the Ursulines were derived into the new or regular and the primitive Ursulines. The order spread to France and beyond the Alps.

The first Ursuline colony in America was founded in 1639 at Quebec by Marie Griyart. There are in the United States, besides the Toledo branch, Ursuline convents in Cleveland and Fayetteville, O.; Springfield, Alton, Ill.; Columbia, Savanna and Augusta, G.; New Orleans, San Antonio, Galveston, Louisville and St. Louis. The Ursulines ceased to exist in Switzerland and Germany since 1871.
